Weeds Grow Amid NWP's Rusty Rails

High Court Order Further Delays Tunnel Opening

Weeds, and even young trees, sprout between the rails where a fire four years ago collapsed the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's Puerto Suello Tunnel.

Had not Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas stayed the effect of a California Public Utilities Commission order, the railroad by now might be chopping out the weeds and trees and preparing to reopen the tunnel. On May 4, the PUC gave the railroad six months to get trains rolling again into San Rafael.

ORDER STAYED

Justice Douglas, however, stayed the order until the October term of the U.S. Supreme Court by granting NWP review of one of the long series of de-1 cisions which have been uniformly against its proposal to abandon the line permanently.

The tunnel collapsed four years and two days ago, on July 20, 1961, when a fire started in it by two boys destroyed part of the timbering.

Railroad officials talked about reopening it, then without warning filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission to abandon its main line between a milepost north of the tunnel and its San Rafael station.

LONG HEARINGS

After long hearings, the ICC examiner recommended the abandonment be denied. The ICC's review board and then the full ICC, concurred.

The railroad went to court. Federal District Court in San Francisco upheld the ICC ruling. So did the U.S. Supreme Court.

Nothing happened. Weeds—and trees — grew between the tracks. The collapsed tunnel remained an eyesore. A partially collapsed apartment house atop it remained in that condition, because the owners cannot rebuild while the tunnel fight continues.

Northwestern Pacific (or its parent, Southern Pacific Co., which actually calls all the moves) sought to combine aban-

Nation Is Told To Brace For 10-Year Viet Fight

LBJ Continues Talks With Pentagon Brass

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says it is "anticipated on our side" that the war in Viet Nam may continue for 10 years—while the Communist side talks of 20.

Top level White House talks resume today, with military emphasis, on what the Montana senator called "an ordeal of indefinite duration and increasing sacrifice which will persist until the problem can be resolved at the conference table."

Mansfield spoke in the Senate last night at the end of a long day during which the highest officials of government reviewed the word Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara brought back at dawn from Viet Nam. The White House said no announcement on these deliberations will be made until after the strategy talks are concluded.

TOP ADVISERS

President Johnson confers with his top military advisers today on the "new and serious" decisions he soon must made about boosting America's combat effort in the bloody anti-Communist war in Viet Nam.

The Chief Executive scheduled a White House meeting with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen indicated congressional adjournment congressional adjournment plans for September might be complicated by the "terribly serious and dangerous situation in Viet Nam."

TO SEE LBJ

The Illinois Republican said he did not know yet whether President Johnson would want Congress to act on a new Viet Nam resolution to accompany his expected buildup of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

Senator Mansfield told newsmen he and Dirksen expected to meet with the President "tomorrow or Saturday" to discuss the adjournment outlook.

There was unofficial talk of sending 100,000 more U.S. troops to bolster the 75,000 already there.

Mansfield told the Senate "there is talk of a reserve call-up, extended enlistment, added defense appropriations and the like. It is even anticipated on our side that the war may go on for four or five or even ten

Warplanes Hit Still Closer To Red China

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON—U.S. war planes flew closer today to the Red Chinese border than ever before on an air strike over North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Three Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs bombed a highway bridge only 41 miles from the Chinese frontier, the spokesman said. The raiders destroyed the bridge 105 miles northwest of Hanoi and also cratered the Yen Bay railroad yards 80 miles northwest of the Communist capital.

The pilots reported heavy Communist groundfire, but the spokesman said all planes returned safely.

A U.S. spokesman announced Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who is retiring as U.S. ambassador, will leave Viet Nam tomorrow. Henry Cabot Lodge is due back in Saigon in mid-August to succeed him. This arrangement conforms with diplomatic protocol calling for an outgoing ambassador to depart before his successor arrives.

In another development, national highway 20 leading from Saigon to the mountain town of Dalat 175 miles northeast of Saigon was open again today for the first time in more than six weeks. Guerrilla forces had cut the highway with armed checkpoints, brriers of earth, blown bridges and trenches.

The highway closure has cut off Saigon's supply of fresh vegetables and forced rice rationing in Dalat.

Another vital highway, the 75-mile road from Saigon to the port at Gung Tau on the South China Sea, was cut again by the destruction of another bridge.

In the only other raid on North Viet Nam reported today, eight F4 Starfighters destroyed

Harriman Heads Home Without Much Thaw

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Roving U. S. mbassador W. Averell Harriman arrived here today from Moscow where two rounds of talks with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin apparently failed to budge the Russians from their tough stand on Viet Nam.

Harriman was conferring today with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak before going on to Bonn tonight for talks with West German officials. He was expected to explain U.S. policy in Viet Nam and possibly the implication of his Moscow mission.

He told newsmen at the airport he would report to President Johnson on his talks with Kosygin before he made any public statements. He had told newsmen in Moscow "I'm not going to say anything" about the Viet Nam crisis.

Administration sources in Washington said Harriman's talks with Soviet officials produced no hope Russia might try to persuade North Viet Nam to negotiate the Vietnamese war in the forseeable future.

In ending his 10-day visit here, Harriman said the Russians "must be willing to do something serious" on disarmament or, he felt, they would not have agreed to resume the 18-nation disarmament talks in Geneva.

"I don't think they would go to Geneva unless they were serious," he said.

Harriman also said he believed "progress can be made" between the United States and Russia on other relations, especially in trade, in exchange programs, water desalinization experiments and in control of nuclear weapons in outer space.

Stengel Manages Foot-In-Maw Act

NEW YORK (AP)—Mets Manager Casey Stengel livened up things at City Hall today by indicating he would retire from baseball after this season, only to have a Mets public relations official deny it all. (See details in Sports).

At a premature birthday party where Mayor Robert F. Wagner proclaimed Friday Casey Stengel Day, the Mets manager said he hoped to leave a young team "when I leave this here ball club this fall."

But later, Harold Weissman, Mets' publicity chief, said Stengel had been misinterpreted and, in saying he was leaving, meant only that he was going home to California after this season.

Frouge Gives County A New Set Of Plans

Marin County Planning Commissioners yesterday received their copies of a trimmed-down Marincello Master Plan. They have set a hearing on the plan for Aug. 2.

The revised plan reduces the proposed city to meet county density requirements of 3.5 dwelling units per acre. Frouge Corp., developer of Marincello, originally asked for a density of 5.9.

Instead of a 31,000 population, it now anticipates 20,000. Nineteen high-rise apartment buildings are in the revised plan. The original plan called for 51.

The revision shows 40 per cent less square footage of building floor area devoted to retail business, general commercial and light industrial uses.

Recreation facilities have been sharply reduced, though land for six school sites has been retained. Missing from the plan this time around are an auditorium, stadium, museum and golf course.

Also dropped is the access from Marincello to the proposed Golden Gate Headlands State Park. The State Division of Beaches and Parks opposed that road at the June 21 planning commission hearing on the original master plan.

E. Warren Maguire, attorney for Frouge Corp., told the commissioners in a later accompanying the revised plan:

"The basic concept of the Marincello plan as originally presented to you will be realized under the revised plan, but on a reduced scale."

He noted that the principles of minimum land coverage and maximum open area were maintained in the revised plan with only 8.5 per cent of the land covered.

Douglas-Home Steps Down As Leader

LONDON (AP) — Sir Alec Douglas - Home, former prime minister, resigned tonight as leader of Britain's opposition Conservative party.

An official statement by the Conservative party announced that the first ballot for his successor will be taken next Tuesday, with the result announced two days later.

The former prime minister had been under pressure from factions within the party to bow out on the ground he has failed to provide sufficiently dynamic leadership.

Real Life 'Goldfinger' Plot Told

NEW YORK (UPI)—State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz today obtained a restraining order to halt what he charged was a plot to smuggle $180 million worth of gold from the United States, then sell it on the international market as mined in Panama.

Lefkowitz alleges four securities salesmen set up the "Panama Trading and Exploration Corp." as a front for the smuggling.

The gold was to have been mined in an undisclosed Western state, Lefkowitz said. All gold mined in the United States legally must be sold to the government at $35 an ounce, far below free exchange rates.

The alleged racket involves maps of supposed Panama mines, a secret jungle airstrip, and a chemical process to disguise the origin of the contraband gold, the New York official charged.

Defendants in the security sales restraining order are Donald M. Brewer, William F. Hamilton and Robert E. MacIntyre of New York and Carl H. Hoffner of Wyoming, Pa.

Missing Coeds Reportedly Seen

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An Austin drug store operator told police today that two missing University of Texas coeds bought sandwiches and malts yesterday at his soda fountain, three days after they were reported missing. (See also, page 2.)

John Thompson, manager of Alamo Drug, said he was positive in his identification of the two attractive sorority sisters, Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21 and from Dallas.

Peg Leg Kidnap Suspect Nabbed On Ransom Try

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—A demand for a $50 ransom payment for the return of a stolen artificial leg brought the arrest of a 25-year-old Sunnyvale paint blender.

Sheriff's Sgt. Henry Crossfield said Samuel W. Clevenger was arrested yesterday in the Cupertino post office when the asked for the ransom letter.

The leg was stolen by a burglar from Mrs. Betty Steves' Redwood City home Friday night.

A man phoned on Monday demanding $50 and instructing that it be mailed to the Cupertino post office.

Officers advised Mrs. Steves to carry out the mailing instructions while they staked out the post office.

Clevenger was booked at the San Mateo County Jail for investigation of theft.

U.S. Apologizes For Overflight

PARIS (UPI) — The United States today expressed regret to the French government at what it called the inadvertent flight of a U.S. Air Force reconnaissance plane over the Pierrelatte nuclear power plant last Friday.

U. S. Minister Robert H. McBride told the French Foreign Office steps are being taken to prevent such violations in the future.

A U. S. Embassy announcement said the French government replied that it now considers the incident closed.

Nixon May Again Have Aspirations

Appears Building Broad New Base For 1968 Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to be building a broad base for a potential bid for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination in his political travels around the country.

Nixon dropped in on Republican congressional leaders this week to chat with them about party affairs, including the lean condition of its coffers, and such matters as the GOP position on Viet Nam.

'DIDN'T SAY'

Asked at a news conference Wednesday whether he thinks the 1960 party nominee is likely to become a candidate again, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen replied:

"He didn't say."

But Dirksen went on to note that Nixon is topping all other potential GOP aspirants in the public polls. The Illinois senator intimated he thought the polls reflected party sentiment rather accurately.

Nixon's leading position at this point is credited to the fact that few Republicans are mad at him.

Barry Goldwater, the 1964 presidential nominee, finds the former vice president acceptable as a candidate. Most party liberals, with the possible exception of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., wouldn't object to Nixon.

COURTS PRESS

The former vice president also is displaying a new affability with the press. This is something that a survey made under the sponsorship of House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., and 11 GOP colleagues said Nixon lacked in the 1960 campaign and his unsuccessful 1962 race for governor of California.

The survey, which urged Republicans to take advantage of what it said was President Johnson's "inability to deal effectively with the press," said Nixon's "bitter denunciation of the press" following his defeat in California was "an intemperate outburst to be long remembered by the candidate, the press and the public."

Parking Fight Leaves 3 Dead

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A young policeman was shot to death today by a man he reprimanded for double parking. The gunman then killed his nephew who urged him to surrender and was fatally injured in a brawl with two other policemen, police said.

Kuhn

Police said patrolman Robert H. Kuhn, 23, was killed instantly by a barrage of pistol bullets fired by David Cooper, 45, one of the occupants of the illegally parked car. Cooper fled with his nephew, William, 30, but the younger man was found mortally wounded in an automobile a few blocks away. He said his uncle shot him when he demanded he surrender.

Two patrolmen cornered David Cooper, who once was released from the Army because of mental disorder, on a nearby street. The suspect resisted arrest and tried to disarm one of the policemen before he was clubbed into submission by the other. He died of a head wound two hours later.

Astronaut Faces Divorce Court

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Scientist-astronaut Duane E. Graveline goes to court next week to hear allegations by his wife that his outbursts of temper prevent continuation of their 14-year marriage.

Graveline

Mrs. Carole Jane Graveline made the statements in a divorce suit filed Tuesday.

Graveline, 34, is one of six scientists named June 29 for the Apollo program, which calls for moon flights in the late 1960s.

In the petition Mrs. Graveline states he has "violent and ungovernable outbursts of temper" and she fears she "will suffer physical bodily injury and may even lose her life" unless he is restrained. She asks custody of their four daughters.

In Houston, a source close to Graveline said the physician would not contest the suit.

Briton Tells Russ He's Guilty

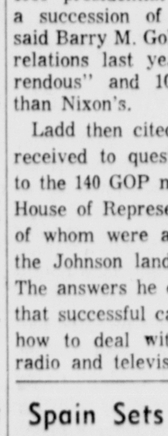
MOSCOW (AP) — A young British college teacher pleaded guilty in Moscow city court today to smuggling anti-Soviet propaganda into the Soviet Union.



Brooke

"I recognize my guilt in connection with all the charges," said Gerald Brooke in fluent Russian.

Brooke, 27, a Russian-language teacher in a London college, went on trial in the 560-seat theater of the Union of Art Workers. He faces from six months to seven years imprisonment.

He was arrested April 25 while on a tour with a group of British teachers.

The Briton's Russian defense lawyer, Nikolai Borovic, said his client "admitted his guilt clearly."

"I'll try for a minimum sentence," the attorney told newsmen.

Two Coeds Missing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Concern mounted today for two University of Texas coeds whose yellow sports car turned up last night, three days after the young women vanished.

A search began yesterday after two dozen dresses and other clothing identified as theirs were found in a ditch beside a northeast Austin street.

The missing coeds, both brunettes and attractive, are Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, each 21 and from Dallas. They are sorority sisters.

Police found the car parked on a street about 10 blocks from an apartment where Miss Rigsby planned to live while attending summer classes.

Miss Rigsby is the daughter of Mrs. Bobby Rigsby of Dallas and Theo Rigsby, coach at Richland High School in Fort Worth and president of the Texas Coaches Assn.

Miss Stark has been making her home with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Neill Kinnard of Dallas.

PROPHECY HEEDED

Santa Barbara Bares Quake Preparations

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Civil Defense officials here said they were kept on edge yesterday by an apparently false earthquake "prophecy."

The prediction was circulated in a letter from J. Douglas Stewart of Athens, Ohio, a graduate student in photography at Ohio University, according to Francis A. Farley, city Civil Defense director.

"It was something you couldn't ignore entirely," Farley said. "Quietly, so that no one would be observant of it, we had city fire equipment parked on the ramps of fire stations as a precautionary measure."

Farley said other precautions were taken that "didn't hurt anybody."

Stewart listed his sources for the prophecy as Mrs. Jean Dixon of Washington, D.C., who is credited with predicting numerous occurrences, and Mrs. Grace conrad of Bayside, Calif., Farley said.

However, Mrs. Dixon denied she had predicted a disaster for the West Coast.

"I said there would be some tremors in July, but they'd be nothing to worry about," she said.

Mrs. Dixon also said Stewart "has never contacted me."

There were no reports of earthquakes anywhere in Southern California yesterday.

Reagan Says He'll Soon Toss Hat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Actor Ronald Reagan, in San Francisco for private political huddles with ranking Republicans, hints he's all but on the verge of declaring his candidacy for governor of California.

"I'm getting a lot of encouragement," he told newsmen yesterday. "All the signs say 'go' but I won't know for sure until I move around the state and do a lot of talking with a lot more people."

Among Republican leaders who talked with the 54-year-old actor were GOP state vice chairman James W. Halley.

His two-day visit here is sponsored by "Friends of Ronald Reagan," a committee headed by fellow actor James Cagney, with membership including Walt Disney and a number of Los Angeles-area oil and banking executives.

Reagan brushed off discussion of possible campaign conflicts with fellow Republicans, such as former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel.

He said he wanted to concentrate against Democrats.

GOP Hopefuls Warned: Improve Press Relations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After studying the public relations policies of GOP office - seekers, a young Republican has offered his party a pointed conclusion: Those who know how to get along with the press win elections; those who don't, don't.

Bruce C. Ladd Jr., a 29-year-old party worker who served as press secretary to Charles H. Percy in his unsuccessful bid for the Illinois governorship last year, warned fellow Republicans in a 45-page study that hostile treatment of the press is "practically suicidal."

As cases in point, Ladd described Richard M. Nixon's handling of the press in the 1960 presidential campaign as a succession of mistakes. He said Barry M. Goldwater's press relations last year were "horrendous" and 10 times worse than Nixon's.

Ladd then cited 93 replies he received to questionnaires sent to the 140 GOP members of the House of Representatives — all of whom were able to survive the Johnson landslide last fall. The answers he offered implied that successful candidates know how to deal with newspapers, radio and television.

Judge Sends Girls Back To St. Louis

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court granted a writ of habeas corpus to Thelma Rita Haskell, 34, of St. Louis, Mo., following a one-day hearing on her petition to force Dr. Robert Haskell, 39, of Sausalito, to relinquish possession of the girls.

Mother and daughters flew to St. Louis last night, accompanied by Tony Lang, a 38-year-old St. Louis television performer who appeared as "the other man" in the case.

The doctor who has filed petition in Missouri for modification of the 1959 divorce which gave Mrs. Haskell full custody, sought unsuccessfully to prove the woman's conduct over the past several weeks was grounds for the court to permit the children to remain at his home at 585 Bridgeway until a custody hearing July 30 in Kansas City.

"I think all the arguments you (Dr. Haskell) make have to be made in the proper court," declared Judge Wilson. He said that court would be in Kansas City. "I'm not going to turn this into a custody case."

The judge said he had no basis to alter the original decree's custody ruling for the nine days until the hearing. He added, "I've said enough already to indicate my disapproval of Dr. Haskell's behavior" in bringing the youngest daughter, Gilda, 10, from St. Louis to Sausalito without the consent of the mother on July 6.

The doctor alleged improper conduct by his ex-wife with Lang who accompanied her to Marin County. But, said Judge Wilson, even if this were proved, it would not alter his decision.

Judge Wilson also commented that brief observations of the girls, Gilda, Sheri Lynn, 14, and Lisa Gaye, 11, showed them to have affection for both parents.

"Let's be reasonable," he said to Haskell. "These are good kids . . . They've lived in St. Louis six years since the divorce without any apparent damage and nine more days isn't going to change anything."

The doctor admitted in yesterday's testimony that he went back to St. Louis on July 6 and returned with Gilda to join her two sisters, whom he had brought to Sausalito for a visit with their mother's consent.

He has since been charged in Missouri with felony child-stealing. He is scheduled for further appearance in Marin Municipal Court on extradition proceedings Aug. 6, following the divorce modification hearing.

FINALIST—Miss U.S.A., Sue Ann Downey of Columbus, Ohio, was among 15 finalists chosen last night from the 56 entries in the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant at Miami Beach. Winner of the pageant will be picked Saturday night.

G.I. Pay In Viet Nam Now Scrip, Not Cash

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command has agreed to pay American soldiers scrip instead of dollars in an attempt to torpedo a thriving black market in American currency, informed sources said today.

The move was requested by the Vietnamese government as a block to the flow of black market dollars, officially estimated at $40 million per year.

American dollars are in great demand by local Vietnamese, Chinese and French businessmen who use the currency to bank their earnings abroad. The official exchange rate for Vietnamese currency is 73.5 Vietnamese piasters to the dollar. But some businessmen have been paying twice that figure for dollars they send abroad.

On the military front today, American and Vietnamese commanders studied the results of another massive B52 bombing raid on Zone D 30 miles north of Saigon.

An armada of 25 to 30 Guam-based B52s rained more than 500 tons of bombs on the Communist stronghold at dusk Wednesday, but darkness prevented an immediate damage and casualty report.

Closer to Saigon, Communist guerrillas harassed U.S. positions at the Vien Hoa air base for the fourth consecutive night. Casualties were described as "light."

Official U.S. spokesmen declined comment on the plan to use scrip instead of dollars in paying American soldiers.

It is estimated that fewer than a thousand of the 80,000 foreign troops now in Viet Nam exchange their currency at the local rate.

The black market is wide open.

American GIs coming away from paymasters with crisp new greenbacks are besieged just outside the gates of camps by racketeers offering up to double the official exchange rate for dollars.

There are few who can resist the temptation.

Eventually, the American money finds its way to bank accounts in France, Switzerland and other countries abroad. Some of the dollar outflow adds to the drain on U.S. gold reserves because they are cashed for the precious metal by European central bankers.

Americans with pockets full of Vietnamese piasters are able to outbid all but a few Vietnamese civilians for the comforts of life that were once common in this country.

South Viet Nam's new military regime says the situation has had a demoralizing effect on the population.

Medicare Bill May Mean More Doctor Paperwork

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The long-awaited medicare program will place a key role in the hands of the nation's doctors, many of whom opposed the legislation in its trip through Congress.

Agreement was announced yesterday between House and Senate negotiators on a compromise $6.5 billion health and welfare bill containing the program.

It was headed toward enactment by the end of the month, with health care programs due to go into effect July 1, 1966.

Under the proposal's medicare plan for persons 65 or over, it will be up to the doctors to determine who goes to the hospital, how long they stay, and what type of post-hospital benefits they will receive.

In addition to the medicare program, to be financed through increased Social Security taxes, the over-all bill also provides for an optional medical insurance program to pay doctor bills in return for $3 monthly premiums and a 7 per cent increase in all Social Security benefits.

Payment for health services under the bill would be dependent upon certification by a physician that the treatment is medically necessary.

This was one of the reasons some doctors opposed the program. It will mean a mountain of new paperwork in the form of records to keep and reports to be made.

The main certification requirements apply to hospital treatment, up to 90 days of which is provided by the bill at reduced rates; post-hospital treatment in a nursing home, and home health services while the patient is recuperating.

Medical Clues To Aid Search For Woman

EL CERRITO (UPI)— Police hoped today that doctors in Torrance might provide a clue to the fate of a missing housewife.

Her husband, Henry, 29, was arrested 39 days later and charged with the $11,700 holdup of a Sandia, Tex., bank last July 14.

Bloodstains were found on the floor mats of Norton's car, which were removed and sent here.

Police have determined that the bloodstains were human but they do not know Mrs. Norton's blood type. They said eye specialists in Torrance treated Mrs. Norton and hoped the doctors had a record of ther classification.

a fire department ladder couldn't reach him. Officers climbed fire escapes. Patrolman Edward Costanzi talked Nagel into coming down.

donment of the tunnel portion of the main line with abandonment —already twice denied by the ICC — of its Sausalito branch. The ICC refused even to hear that.

Finally the California PUC got into the act. Since all ICC and court rulings were simply that the line could not be abandoned —and since they set no date for restoration of service—the public utilities commission issued an order that service be restored. It set deadlines. An appeal to the Supreme Court alleging the PUC had no jurisdiction held up effectiveness of the order.

The Supreme Court upheld PUC jurisdiction. That resulted in May 4 becoming effective date of the order to start work within 30 days (June 3) and restore service within six months.

But the railroad then got Justice Douglas to agree to review the findings at the October term of court.

Meanwhile, railroad spokesmen have been diligently trying to promote a scheme to trade abandonment of the Tiburon Peninsula portion of the line for reopening of the tunnel — although ICC, PUC and court have ruled the tunnel must be reopened without any "quid pro quo."

'Minds Turned Off' In War On Poverty

By WILLIAM HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — When it comes to new ideas on how to fight the War on Poverty, a New York educator says most Great Society bureaucrats have their minds turned off.

"Only one out of every four top officials — and that includes the Cabinet and White House — is receptive to a new idea," says Mrs. Rosalyn L. Switzen, 51, a grandmother, science teacher and researcher.

"Congressmen are even worse. They think of themselves as middle echelon executives—not leaders. Only one in 20 will listen to something new and understand it."

Mrs. Switzen, who directs the National Communications Laboratories in New York City, said she arrived at this estimate of the Washington mind by personally telephoning officials and lawmakers. She didn't reveal how many, but said she talked to "enough."

The situation is so deplorable, as the red-headed researcher sees it, she is calling upon President Johnson to create a "National Council to Aid Innovation." This would be akin to the old National Investors' Council established in the 1940s to look for pigeonholed ideas useful to national defense.

"We are losing most of the social inventions that are the bold new tools we so desperately need if our War on Poverty is to be successfully waged," says Mrs. Switzen, who is bubbling over with ideas herself on how to advance education.

She thinks a group of leaders in various fields sitting on a national council could "save our social breakthroughs" that are currently being "lost" to the Great Society.

As for her own ideas, Mrs. Switzen has several which she believes could be implemented now to greatly facilitate the "harnessing of human energy" — chiefly through early education.

For example, she is pressing for a $1 million federal grant to establish the pilot model of a new kind of community center, one with a "country club" atmosphere. It would feature a cafeteria and a playground where all the toys and playthings would actually be instructional tools.

An advocate of new programmed learning techniques, which employ everything from games to television as well as special teaching machines, Mrs. Switzen feels the new centers would be readily accepted by communities across the country once the idea is demonstrated. They would probably set up their own without federal aid.

Creating an educator's group to inform toy makers how to turn their products into learning devices is another idea Mrs. Switzen is advocating. She says the manufacturers, some of them, anyway, are interested.

With a nudge from the federal government, she believes even the packagers of cereals could be turned into "ghost" teachers. Instead of advertising, they would devote space on the boxes to such things as history lessons, foreign language instruction, science and geography. Lessons would be absorbed along with breakfast.

The reason these and other ideas haven't made much headway so far, Mrs. Switzen says, is because most people aren't very receptive. They are burdened with what the researcher calls a "threat field" — some inner fear of anything novel. She said this fear is easily recognizable to the trained eye, manifesting itself as yawns (once she put an official fast asleep, she said) or "buck-passing."

"Few people are able to handle innovation. The more facts you give them about a new idea, the more they close up."

Site Purchased For State Park

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed a bill adding 412 acres of Reynolds Redwood Flat in Mendocino County to the state park system.

The measure by Sen. Frank S. Petersen, D-Ukiah, was opposed by the Park Commission and the Department of Parks and Recreation on grounds site purchase was not a proper use of department funds.

The legislation requires the department to acquire the land at a reasonable cost. It was donated by the widow of Frank W. Reynolds at what Petersen said was less than the appraised value.

Hollis Explains Narcotics Plan

County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis presented a narcotics education plan to the Marin County Grand Jury last night that would involve citizen participation.

George R. Scott, jury foreman, said his panel whole-heartedly approves the plan, and expects to work closely with school leaders in making it effective.

Basically, the plan — formulated earlier this month and announced at a July 7 meeting of school educators with the grand jury—is to have two advisory committees. One will be a citizens' resources committee and the second, a group of educators and experts on narcotics education.

Hollis said today the plan is designed to help schools in Marin to improve narcotics education, and comments and support will be sought from a wide segment of Marin's population.

He said there will be a citizen committee meeting on Aug. 10, and from this group will come the resource committee. This committee will present its recommendations to the educators' curriculum committee.

Hollis said Lawrence A. Lindberg, director of education for the county schools office, will direct the project. He also announced that Dr. Oliver Byrd, who heads the department of health education in Stanford University's School of Education, has been appointed as consultant to the committees.

William Jordan, assistant superintendent of San Rafael City Schools, told grand jury members about the current narcotic education curriculum in school districts, particularly in San Rafael.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen A. Bridges described presentations he has been making in schools. Hollis reported that a special manual is being prepared by the State Department of Education for use by teachers in upper grades and high school.

years and Ho Chi Minh, president of North Viet Nam, has stated in the last day or so that he is prepared for a war of 20 years duration."

Mansfield called for an effort to reconvene the 1962 Geneva conference to discuss the affairs of Laos, Cambodia, South Viet and North Viet Nam.

A Republican spokesman, however, asked, "is it enough to say that we are fighting to get the enemy to come to a conference table?"

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the GOP leader in the House, posed the question during a speech last night to the Captive Nations Assembly. He urged Johnson to "escalate not the means alone—but the ends for which we fight."

Ford said Johnson need not fear "that the opposition party will ever undercut his efforts to be firm against Communist aggression in Viet Nam, or elsewhere."

Ford and other Republican congressional leaders called on President Johnson today to tell Congress and the American people why the crisis in Viet Nam may necessitate the callup of reserves, extended enlistments and increased draft calls.

"We do not shrink from doing what the situation calls for, but we ought to be told and the American people ought to be alerted," Dirksen told a news conference.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States is facing a crisis in Viet Nam because the Communists are "not interested in discussing" a peaceful solution of the war.

"We are in a crisis situation, we are not sending you home in any comfort," Rusk told Boys' Nation, a group of 100 young men sponsored by the American Legion.

The United States is "not the gendarme of the universe. That is not our role," Rusk said. But he added that the United States has a 10-year-old commitment in South Viet Nam.

Wrong Man Hears Youth's Conversation

San Rafael police yesterday confiscated an Argus camera from Warren E. Hale, 18, of the Marin Hotel at 1111 Fourth Street, San Rafel after William Slattery, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent from San Francisco, said he overheard the youth, at Fourth and Cijos streets, talking with friends about the camera being stolen.

Hale told police he bought the camera the day before from someone he did not know for $5.

20 buildings and damaged numerous others at the Dong Cao Then barracks 60 miles inside Communist territory, the spokesman said.

He also reported heavy air action against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam and scattered clashes on the ground.

The Viet Cong kept up pressure on troops of the U.S. 1st Division last night for the fourth consecutive night. American casualties again were reported light and the infiltrators were repulsed.

Although the number of American casualties was not disclosed, two men were wounded when a grenade, thrown at the Viet Cong, hit a bunker, bounced back and exploded.

There was no damage assessment yet from yesterday's raid by 30 B52 bombers of the Strategic Air Command on the D zone jungle area 30 miles north of Saigon.

Original Sand Wedge Now In Golf Museum

NEW YORK (AP) — The original concave-faced sand wedge, invented by a Texas cotton broker in 1928 and popularized by Horton Smith in 1930, now is in the United State Golf Association museum here.

The donor is Mrs. Robert A. Benton of Birmingham, Mich., who obtained the club last year from the family of the inventor, the late Edwin Kerr MacClain of Houston Tex.

The club was accompanied by photo copies of papers granting the patent to MacClain on Dec. 18, 1928.

The club was ruled illegal by the USGA in early 1931 after tests showed the ball could be hit twice with one stroke. However, the general idea of MacClain's wedge formed the basis of the modern sand wedge.

VOICE FROM NOWHERE

Ford, Philco Now Testing Radio Road Alert System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soft music came over the car radio as the sedan headed across a Potomac River bridge.

Suddenly the music cut off and a woman's crisp voice commanded:

"Yield right of way; proceed with caution. Yield right of way!"

The car continued on towards the Pentagon with the radio turned off. Suddenly it turned on automatically, and the voice of kled.

Gremlins along the Potomac?

No — just the test of an experimental "radio road alert system" developed by the Ford Motor Co. and the Philco Co.

It's a safety plan designed to warn the automobile driver — through his car radio — of highway situations and impending dangers.

The warnings aren't broadcast from a radio station.

They're stored in prerecorded form on a magnetic tape in an electronic memory unit inside the automobile. The appropriate warning is triggered into vocal form over the car radio by a coded signal from special radio transmitters that can be placed on roadsides or carried in police or other emergency vehicles.

The system is designed to warn drivers of such hazards as bridge washouts, roadblocks, multiple car pileups, icy road conditions, changes in speed limits and other traffic situations.

Saying the setup could provide a nationwide network of "talking signs," Ford officials told newsmen at the demonstration Wednesday:

"The Ford system would supplement cautionary highway signs which are difficult to see in bad weather and, because of their size and the speed of traffic, are restricted to terse messages that are sometimes misunderstood."

They contended that drivers' eyes already are overworked — due to such situations as "being confronted with 10 or more highway and traffic events per second" — so it would be a good idea to put the driver's ears to work.

The "memory unit" can store 40 or more messages covering virtually all possible traffic conditions — including an alert that you're driving the wrong way on a one-way highway.

Low-power roadside and mobile transmitters have a range of up to 2,000 feet.

Estimated cost of such a system: possibly $25 for a single roadside transmitter; $35 to $50 for the automobile equipment if added to an existing car radio, and $15 to $20 if built into a radio from the start.

Bircher Quits, Blasts Santa Ana Police Chief

SANTA ANA (AP) — Another row has arisen in the beleagured Santa Ana Police Department, with a John Birch Society member resigning amid a blast at Police Chief Edward J. Allen.

Sgt. Francis (Al) Rawlin, an eight-year member of the force, alleged "totatalitarian-type leadership" of the department in his resignation yesterday.

As reasons he cited:

"Harassment of myself and friends by the administration of this department and city over the false claim of a conspiracy.

"The endangering of the health of myself and friends due to the department's totalitarian-type leadership.

"Promotion of incompetent personnel and unfair disciplinary measures. The rotation system. The lack of any permanent rules and regulations. Lack of enforcement in the areas of vice and narcotics and no activity in intelligence."

Allen called Rawlin's claims "a rehash of unsubstantiated charges. . .They need no further clarification or amplification."

Controversy sprang up last November when City Manager Carl Thornton told newsmen a dissident group of officers, mostly members of the same Birch Society chapter, were trying to unseat Allen.

Probes later resulted in the firing of two officers, who, however, were reinstated.

Rawlin, 30, father of four, made his resignation from his $745-a-month post effective July 31.

Woman Treated For Overdose

Mary N. Eckman, 43, of 160 Park Street, San Rafael, was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today, recovering from an overdose of sleeping tablets taken yesterday.

She was taken to the hospital after she was seen at a table at Zips Drive-In, Third and A streets, San Rafael, by Mildred M. Crowell of 68 Rocca Drive.

Mrs. Crowell told police Mrs. Eckman was writing a suicide note and had taken the pills when she found her and persuaded her to go to a doctor.

SELA WILL BE READY WHEN TIME COMES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Homer Lewis says she was shocked when her daughter received a social security card.

"She's never worked a day in her life," she said. The card arrived in her daughter's name yesterday by mail.

Her daughter, Sela Lewis, is 5 years old.

Humane Society Gives Figures

The Marin County Humane Society said yesterday it had sheltered 13,787 animals during the fiscal year 1964-65.

The total number of ambulance calls was 6,884. One case of cruelty to animals was prosecuted, resulting in the confiscation of 180 animals from rancher Joseph Fagundes.

Besides the several thousand dogs and cats that the society housed during the past year, one ape, a cockatoo, an iguana, a kinkajou and a margay also were given shelter.

Tools Taken From Shed In Tiburon

More than $300 worth of tools and equipment, including a paint compressor, were taken in burglary of a construction shed at 138 Lyford Drive, Tiburon, owned by Valentine Corp.

Sheriff's officers said today that entry during the past few days was by breaking a padlock. Tools included three electric saws.

A southwest window of Construction Supply Corp., 15 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, was broken early today, but nothing was taken. Deputies said discovery was by Bert J. Hasselberg, an employee.

Teen-Agers Cited For Having Alcohol

San Rafael police cited a 16-year-old boy and two 15-year-old girls for possession of alcohol, after the trio was stopped for a traffic violation and a policeman found a six-pack of beer in the car.

The three, who live in San Rafael, told the officer the beer belonged to the mother of one of the girls.

Theft of a $500 jackhammer, used to break pavement, was also reported to officers by Linscott Co., 30 Belvedere Drive, San Rafael. Deputies said the hammer was taken from a tool box at a construction site in an Eichler tract in the eastern portion of Strawberry Point during the past few days.

Judge Ailing, Sit-Ins Face August Sentencing Dates

BERKELEY (AP) — Berkeley municipal court judge Rupert Crittenden says he will ask that further sentencing of University of California sit-in demonstrators be delayed.

Crittenden's doctor says the judge has an acute case of influenza and will probably be under medical care until Monday.

"I'm going to ask that the cases pending between now and Monday be continued," the judge said yesterday.

Crittenden became ill Tuesday and defendants scheduled to appear in court yesterday were instructed to return Aug. 2. The judge said continued cases would appear on the docket on the first available date during the first week of August.

The demonstrators were convicted of either trespassing or both resisting arrest and trespassing. The charges were the result of an overnight sit-in in Berkeley's administration building Dec. 2-3.

Eighty - three defendants have been sentenced so far. Nearly half of them have either refused the judge's terms of probation or have asked for time to think it over. The judge has specified that defendants must avoid "unlawful sit-ins, walk-ins, stand - ins or lie-ins" during the probationary period.

Most of those sentenced have received $156 fines, 10-day suspended jail sentences and one or two years probation. More than 500 persons still await sentencing.

Old School Entered

San Rafael police said today that someone broke into the old Coleman School building on Grand Avenue, San Rafael, Tuesday night. Police found small piles of burned papers on the floor. Nothing was taken.

Burglars Get $1,000 Loot From Home

Burglars ransacked the home of Goldie O. Corbin at 1082 Lea Drive, San Rafael, yesterday and walked off with over $1,000 in jewelry and furs.

Police think the thieves might have been two youths who walked through the neighborhood the day before, ringing doorbells and saying they were looking for odd jobs.

"They didn't look like the working type," one neighbor said.

The burglars ransacked two bedrooms and various closets in the home. From one closet they took an $850 mink stole. From one bedroom they got a jewelry box and ring case.

Mrs. Corbin was not sure how much was taken but said she thought her loss could amount to "well over $1,000."

Tahoe is an Indian name, signifying "Big Water." Fremont tried to name it Bonpland for a French botanist; Mark Twain said, in "The Innocents Abroad," that Tahoe was the Piute Indian word for "Grasshopper Soup," and for a period of years it was called Lake Bigler, for John Bigler, California's third governor, by act of the State Legislature. This action was subsequently reversed due to popular demand.

You can't tell the true value of a '65 Plymouth just by looking at its low year-end price tag.

Let Kelley tell you the rest.

Kelley says

"Wholesale and retail values in Kelley Blue Book are without any consideration for a factory warranty. All passenger cars and trucks, within the factory warranty period and with a valid warranty certificate that is transferable to subsequent owners, are worth an additional amount over and above the wholesale and retail values shown in the book. The amount will vary at the discretion of the dealer in relation to the degree of warranty remaining. However, our survey indicates a fair value for the remaining warranty is $50.00 for the first 1,000 miles or less plus $5.00 for each 1,000 miles of the remaining warranty mileage."

Garbage Dumpers, Short Funds Blamed For Molino 'Disgrace'

Complaints that Mill Valley's Molino Playground is a "disgrace" were answered today by Park Supt. Joseph F, Penders and park groundsman Victor Paulsen.

Penders said Molino and Sycamore playgrounds were given lowest priority of all city parks about a year ago. Paulsen cited vandalism and dumping of "home garbage" at the hillside play area located at Molino and Janes Street.

Residents in the area yesterday posted a sign reading "this park is a disgrace" and asked for volunteer help to remove it. The sign was later ordered down by police since a sign permit had not been secured.

Today, Paulsen and youngsters in the city's summer work program were clearing weeds at the playground.

Paulsen hauls over 350 gallons of garbage a day from parks said Penders, and most of it is home garbage. "This applies to Molino playground," He said. "Another problem at Molino is that people drive down Molino Avenue and sling bags of garbage over the hill."

In a park study made with City Mgr. Bert Balmer, park and recreation commissioner Dean Meyer and landscape architect Robert Royston, Penders continued, it was agreed that Old Mill Park, then heavily used Boyle Park would get top priorities for improvements. Lowest on the list were Molino and Sycamore. "Actually we had no money nor help to make further development," he said.

Paulsen said he installed a garbage can at Molino and when he went to collect, "it was full of nothing but home garbage." He said lines were painted on blacktop baseball and skip hop, but neighborhood children threw sand on the lines which acted "just like sand paper."

Two swings were installed, but a week later rubber seats were cut into. A basketball hoop and net was erected but "run away with," Paulsen said.

Two Tiny Youngsters Hurt In Forest Knolls Collision

Two small children were injured when two cars collided yesterday trying to avoid a third car ahead of them which had stopped in the westbound lane of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Forest Knolls.

The third car, unscathed, was driven by Karil L. Eynon of 17 Madrone Court, Fairfax. It had stopped in the roadway at 12:30 p.m. near Montezuma Avenue, highway patrolmen reported.

Patrolmen ticketed Miss Eynon for having defective brakes and no stop lights, and for not signaling when stopping.

Floyd G. Ussery Jr. 19, of Hamilton Air Force base, braked his car to a stop behind the Eynon car—but, patrolmen said, he too had no stop lights to warn the car behind him. He was ticketed for this and for having a defective emergency brake.

A car driven by Mrs. Frederick Crews, 31, of Bolinas, struck the Ussery car from behind. Ingrid A. Crews, 20 months old, and Gretchen E. Crews, 30 months, were treated for cuts and bruises at Marin General Hospital.

Foreign Aid Debate Seems In Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — There probably will be no more efforts until next week to reconcile House and Senate differences on the $3.36 billion foreign aid authorization bill.

After 12 meetings, conferees still were in disagreement as to whether the authorization should be for a single year — the House version — or two years, as the Senate provides.

Temperatures in the Sahara Desert may go as high as 125 degrees in the day and drop to freezing at night.

Conservation Group Studies Bruce Idea

The Marin Conservation Council last night formed a committee to study the proposal by County Administrator Alan Bruce to change the name of the county parks and recreation commission to the parks and conservation commission, with implied change of emphasis.

The committee includes Mrs. Ida Geary of the Marin Audubon Society, chairman; George Rubissow, Sierra Club; Eugene Spitler, Homestead Valley Improvement Club; Leonard Tibbett, Marin Rod and Gun Club, and Peter Whitney, Scenic Roads Assn.

Bruce made the proposal in a letter the board of supervisors. It will be discussed at the meeting of the supervisors Monday night at the civic center. It included the recommendation that efforts be increased to secure scenic easements so agricultural use of land may continue within green belts.

The council initiated plans for the second annual conservation awards banquet next February at the Rod and Gun Club. Rubissow was again named chairman of banquet arrangements.

The council will not meet in August, but will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 12 at the Rod and Gun Club.

Novato Plans Break For Sunday Drivers

The two traffic lights in Novato—the only two between San Francisco and Santa Rosa on Highway 101—will not aggravate traffic jams in the future if a plan worked out by the City of Novato and the California Highway Patrol is successful.

This is an emergency plan to be put into use whenever southbound traffic backs up to the Marin County Airport, said Novato police Chief Robert Di Grazia. Last Sunday, traffic from the two lights in Novato was backed up to Petaluma.

Under the plan, the light at Diablo and De Long avenues crossing will be shut off and that at Grant Avenue will operate as a flashing caution light to clear the traffic.

Grant Avenue will then have the only cross-traffic in Novato. A patrolman will be stationed at the intersection to halt highway traffic when necessary.

De Long Avenue traffic will be stopped at Machin Avenue and detoured north to Grant Avenue. On Diablo Avenue, the only traffic allowed to proceed onto Highway 101 will be cars turning right into the southbound lanes.

No left turns northbound on Highway 101 at Grant Avenue will be permitted. Motorists wishing to go left on Grant Avenue must turn right and go around the block.

Killers To Get Life Sentence

OAKLAND (UPI)—Three Oakland men who shot a corner grocer to death during a robbery last November will be sentenced to life in prison, Superior Judge Lewis E. Lercara said Wednesday.

Lercara said he will fomrally pass sentence Friday on Milton E. White, 19, Robert B. Baston, 22, and William J. Crawford, 23. All three were convicted of the slaying of John C. Stavropolous, 61, in Piedmont last Nov. 13.

The three were convicted of first-degree robbery and murder and could have been sentenced to death.

Pocket Veto Faces Liquor License Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP)--A veto is in store for a controversial measure that would prevent the state from issuing new liquor licenses over the next two years.

Gov. Brown said yesterday that when tomorrow night's deadline passes for signing bills from the 1965 general session, he won't have signed the measure by Sen. Luther E. Gibson, D-Vallejo. This allowing time to kill a bill is called the "pocket veto."

Brown contended the measure "would not solve the problem of California's unnecessarily high liquor prices and would only lead to further speculation in licenses."

It would, he added, "cost our citizens another five or six million dollars, but brokers and certain license holders would make twice that amount if I signed the bill."

The bill would have halted new licenses for two years—thus skyrocketing the cost of current licenses, which have run up to $50,000 for a license which years ago cost nothing.

It would also have allowed transfer of licenses from one county to another. Brown said this would mean that a license in San Francisco—which has an adequate number — could be transferred to Orange County—which has fewer than are considered adequate for its burgeoning population — at a cost of $40,000. The license at present would bring $7,500, he noted.

Bold Woman Sailor Makes It To Honolulu

MRS. SHARON SITES
Before the voyage

HONOLULU (AP) — With the applause of old salts ringing in her ears, petite Sharon Sites rested today after her gale-raked, 40-day sail from California to Hawaii. She became the first woman to sail the 2,300 miles alone.

In a snug harbor Wednesday night from her courageous trans- Pacific odyssey — done without a radio or fuel for her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp — the 34-year-old Los Angeles widow counted two casualties:

Her right wrist was broken last weekend in a way she was "too embarrassed" to say, and her pet turtle died 12 days out of Los Angeles.

The blonde dental secretary — a sailing beginner — undertook the voyage alone for the same reason men climb mountains: It was a challenge, she told newsmen before she was taken to a hospital for treatment of her wrist.

On shore at Keehi Marina a few miles from downtown Honolulu, Mrs. Sites told of "Six days of 65 mile an hour winds," her most frightening experience.

Her voyage, which began June 12, ended Wednesday afternoon 25 miles north of Honolulu when the sport fishing boat Catherine S. spotted her sloop and radioed the Coast Guard.

The cutter Cape Corwin took the brown-and-white sloop in tow. In port at last, Mrs. Sites, who had swiftly changed into white slacks and a black-and-white sweater, was welcomed with applause.

When asked about whom she credited most with her success, she said:

"I take very little personal credit for the voyage...the main credit goes to Al (Adams) who bought the boat and rigged her and had great confidence in me.

"I also give credit to Hugh McDonald (of Los Angeles) who taught me my navigation..."

"And next the Lord himself. He had his hand on my shoulder many times during the crossing."

Despite the fact she had to be towed the last few miles to port, Mrs. Sites said she considered that she had completed the full trip.

"I went right by Diamond Head last night (Tuesday) but the navigation lights on my map didn't correspond with the lights on Diamond Head."

Mrs. Sites' position when she was spotted Wednesday was a mile or two from Barber's Point Naval Air Station, 25 miles north of Honolulu.

The rugged trip was completed just four days before the coast guard would have listed Mrs. Sites overdue and pressed a search. Adams preceded his student to Hawaii.

Mrs. Sites has a daughter in Portland, Ore., who said her mother had been married three times and that her third husband, Sites, died last year of cancer.

Mrs. Sites said she carried no radio because she wanted to be alone. She carried food—most of it donated by friends — for 60 days and water for 90 days. The friends also donated food for the turtle.

Judge's Son Freed In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gareth Martinis, the 25-year-old son of Acting Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Martinis, was a free man today after a two-year court battle against charges stemming from a traffic accident in which five persons were killed.

The five-count vehicular homicide indictment against Martinis was dismissed Wednesday on the grounds of double jeopardy. Justice Samuel Silverman granted a defense plea for formal acquittal of Martinis after his trial ended in a hung jury last week.

Martinis was acquitted previously on drunken and reckless driving charges in a verdict returned in five minutes by three judicial colleagues of Martinis' father.

His decision probably would be unpopular, Silverman conceded. He ruled Martinis had undergone identical prosecution in the vehicular homicide trial and in his earlier trial.

Martinis' trouble with the law began May 19, 1963, when police charged he precipitated a three-car collision on a busy Bronx Parkway. Five persons in one car were killed and the driver of another vehicle was seriously injured. Martinis was unhurt.

On June 1, 1963, the three-judge panel acquitted him of drunken and reckless driving charges.

The decision fomented public indignation and demands for "equal justice."

Drivers Face Test

LONDON (AP) — Britain has decided to introduce drink tests for drivers. Transport Minister Tom Fraser said Wednesday that the law should be in operation early next year.

Accidents caused nearly six out of every 100 deaths in the nation during 1964.

U.N. Report Urges Slum Improvements For Cities

(AP) — A U.N. report on housing says some slums benefit their inhabitants and should be improved instead of torn down.

It complains that the dwindling size of houses and apartments is helping break up the three-generation household and separates old people from children and grandchildren.

An anonymous consultant wrote the report for a committee of the U.N. Social Commissions. While aimed mainly at developing countries, it says its subject is of worldwide concern and important "in Moscow, Delhi, Lima and Chicago."

"The clearance of slums, including squatter towns," it declares, "should be kept to the minimum during the next few years. Few cities can afford to demolish any residential structure until the housing supply and number of new jobs are increased. But the improvement of slums, especially the improvement of sanitary conditions, should be greatly accelerated."

The report lists four benefits that slum dwellers derive from the very fact that they live in slums: lack of legal and social controls; the low rents or low housing costs; proximity to the heart of the city where job opportunities are concentrated, and the traditional security that exists where persons live in natural groups of extended family, tribe, nationality, religion or caste.

Castro Aide Still Up

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Cuba's No. 3 man who has not been seen publicly for four months, apparently still is in good favor. The government incated his retention of power in a government-controlled radio broadcast yesterday. It said the next edition of Bohemia magazine, the largest in Cuba, will contain an article by Guevara.

Manager Is Sought By County Employees

Disgruntled by the attitude of the county board of supervisors toward its requests, the Marin County Employees Assn. is going to hire a manager.

Recruiting is expected to start after the Aug. 3 meeting of association directors, reported Mrs. La Verne Robinson, asso-president.

The association recently requested a five per cent across-the-board salary increase for county employees, but supervisors granted no across-the-board increase in the fiscal 1966 budget.

Two-and-a-half to seven per cent raises were granted in other bay area counties, Mrs. Robenson said.

"The reason for hiring a manager is the attitude of the board toward any request on behalf of employees," she said.

Japanese Planning Canadian Peak Test

LAFC Cancels Its Session On Annexation Proposals

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission cancelled its scheduled session at the Civic Center today for lack of a quorum.

The commission was scheduled to consider annexation of St. Vincent's School property and adjacent property totaling about 440 acres to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

Chairman Bert W. Broemmel said the commission would conduct an evening meeting early next week if it could fulfill the legal requirements on meeting notices by then.

Absent commissioners were Byron W. Leydecker, H. G. Marchant and J. Wayne Womack.

Only other item on the agenda was a 1.2 acre annexation to the San Rafael Sanitation District. The application for annexation was filed by Angelo Colombo and Jack DiMaggio for annexation of the land between Mission and Sea View avenues.

Program Of Poetry

Bike Rider Hits Auto In Novato

Eleven-year-old Gary S. Mazzolini escaped with bruises and scrapes at 6:40 p.m. yesterday when he rode his bicycle into a car on Atherton Avenue in Novato.

Car driver Donald R. Bradley, 41, of Walnut Creek slammed on the brakes and swerved to avoid the bike, which Gary rode into the street from a driveway at 618 Atherton Avenue, highway patrolmen reported.

The bike hit the right front fender of the car. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Mazzolini of 654 Atherton Avenue.

Former Patrolman Returns To Force

Jerry Harman has begun work as patrolman for the Mill Valley police department under the city's provision for an added officer in the fiscal 1966 budget.

Harman formerly worked for the Mill Valley police for about three years. For the past year he worked as sheriff's deputy in the Marin City substation.

Parking Fines To Rise In S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It will cost San Francisco's parking zone violators about $9,000 more a day starting Saturday.

About 2,000 motorists daily are generally cited for violations and effective Saturday the usual $2 ticket goes to $5, traffic director Thomas Zaragoza said Wednesday.

Overparking in red, green and yellow zones and on streets with "no parking signs" are included in the new bail schedule, but parking meter violations remain at $2.

Body Build No Clue To Smoking Habits

BERKELEY (UPI) — A tall man is just as likely to smoke as a short man and the two-pack-a-day smoker is just as likely to be thin as heavy set, two University of California scientists said today.

Results of a long-term study at the university showed "no relationship between presmoking body build and later smoking behavior," Drs. Norman Livson and Louis H. Stewart of the U.C. Institute of Human development at Berkeley said.

The determination that body build has nothing to do with the tendency to smoke is of great importance in the study of disease, the scientists said, because prior investigations suggested that statistical association between lung cancer and cigarette smoking may be genetically inherited.

The two scientists studied body measurements of 200 men and women in connection with weight, height, breadth of shoulder and waist and circumference of calf.

Measurements were taken three times—at childhood, again at 18 years differences existed in the natural body build of both men and women in the two groups.

The scientists said their data tended to contradict a Harvard University study showing that smokers are generally heavier and larger in a number of bodily dimensions that non-smokers.

Burglar Ransacks House At Novato

A loaded .22 caliber rifle and $20 were taken in burglary of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard William Price at 1 Rowland Court, Novato, yesterday afternoon, police reported.

Mrs. Price left the house about 2:30 p.m. and returned an hour later to find furniture in every room overturned, she told police. Her son, Ronald, came home about 3 to 3:10 p.m. and thought he heard footsteps in the house, but did not enter. Police set that as the time of the burglary.

Trash Fire Spreads; Owner Faces Citation

An illegal trash fire on the 2323 Fifth Avenue property of Russell Zerbe, 25, brought San Rafael firemen to the scene shortly before noon today to douse it after it got out of Zerbe's control and burned a quarter-acre of grass.

Firemen said Zerbe would be cited for burning without a permit and in an unsafe location.

Pinole Man Claims He Was Kidnaped, Put In Car Trunk

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Police today sought the kidnaper of a Bay Area man who claimed he was threatened with death, bound and driven about aimlessly for hours in the trunks of two cars before he broke free.

William J. Musso, Pinole, told police he was abducted last night from the Sacramento Airport by a man who said he planned to open a casino at Lake Tahoe and needed Musso's help.

Police said Musso told them he agreed during a telephone conversation earlier to meet the man to discuss the deal. Officers declined to divulge the suspect's identity immediately.

He said they got into Musso's car and a short distance from the airport the man fired a 25-caliber automatic into the back seat then pressed the pistol against him and said, "The next one is for you."

Musso said later he was bound and ordered into the trunk and driven aimlessly about. He said the kidnaper mentioned holding him for $50,000 ransom and bought him a soft drink which he put inside the trunk.

Musso said they switched to the kidnaper's car later and again drove aimlessly until he managed to escape from the trunk, climb a fence and seek aid from a rancher south of Sacramento.

Police said Musso also reported the kidnaper stole his wallet and watch.

Klan Holds Big Rally As Probe Underway

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The Ku Klux Klan staged a rally near troubled Bogalusa, La., last night that lasted into the wee hours of today and drew so many persons that traffic was backed up for miles on a nearby highway.

Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton told the thousands who gathered for the cow pasture rally nine miles to the east of Bogalusa and across the state line into Mississippi that civil rights advocates were "tennis-shoe - wearing ... sex perverts."

The rally came only hours after the House Committee on Un-American Activities questioned its first witness in a secret hearing in Washington in its long-announced investigation of the Klan.

The witness was not identified but officials said he was a law enforcement officer from the South and "friendly."

Shelton, regarded as the top Klansman among a variety of Klan groups in the South, has denounced the investigation and last night accused the government and President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach of entering into a conspiracy with "the atheistic, anti-Christ Communists" who would destroy the nation.

In Bogalusa itself, a six-man civil rights group tested public accommodations at five white restaurants without incident. Later, about 200 Negroes marched through the nearby deserted city whose stores close on Wednesday afternoon. Only about 20 whites watched the demonstration.

Elsewhere:

Newark, N.J.: A white Newark policeman who shot a Negro and thereby became the target of Negro demonstrations has filed a suit charging slander, libel and interference against James Farmer, head of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Springfield, Mass.: About 100 Negroes protesting alleged police brutality staged their second songfest in three days Wednesday on the staps of City Hall.

Birmingham, Ala.: Federal district Judge Seybourn H. Lynne said Wednesday he will approve a de-segregation plan drawn up by the Jefferson County Board of Education that calls for desegregation of four public school grades by this fall and total desegregation by the fall of 1967.

ROME (AP) — Police reported the theft yesterday of 110 pounds of hair from the shop of a Rome wigmaker. Attilio Giambertoni said the burglars took only blonde hair and left untouched a quantity of natural hair of other hues.

Mississippi Gambling Booming On Coast

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Gambling may be illegal in Mississippi but it seems to be booming on the Gulf Coast along the resort strip between Gulfport and Biloxi.

Keesler Air Force Base at Biloxi has 108 establishments listed as off limits to military personnel, due mainly to gambling on the premises. That's a new high.

NORTH BEACH STRAYS

Thieves Get Goats Of Audubon Society

A pair of goats stolen last Friday from the Audubon Society in Tiburon are back in their pen following an adventure which ended in San Francisco's North Beach, but Marin County sheriff's officers today are still investigating their disappearance.

The eight-year-old female pets, Nancy and Nanny, were reported missing by Henry A. Houghton of the society. They were found under a blanket in an abandoned cut-away old car by a San Francisco policeman Friday night. He turned them over to San Francisco Humane Society.

Houghton said he heard of the discovery of the two goats on a radio newscast. He telephoned the San Francisco Humane Society, which said a man and a woman—who identified herself only as "Mrs. Green"—had already claimed ownership.

The goats had not been released to the pair, however. Houghton went to San Francisco on Sunday and successfully identified the animals and returned them.

He said the car was the same in which two men approached his society's office on July 1 and made strange remarks including, " We're looking for goodies." Houghton said he sent them away, but obtained the car license number.

Young Democrats Endorse Synanon

After hearing representatives of Synanon Foundation describe its methods of treating drug addiction, Marin Young Democrats Tuesday night declared their complete support for the program of the foundation.

They then discussed a letter to the Independent-Journal by Paul R. Haerle, president of the Marin Republican Council, in which he was severely critical of their condemnation of U.S. actions in Viet Nam and their desire for U.S. negotiation with the Viet Cong.

The Young Democrats decided to send a second invitation to Haerle to speak before them. An earlier invitation, they said, brought no response.

White House Conference Hears LBJ On Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Out of all the background papers, formal speeches, panel discussions and comments that made up the White House Conference on Education, one agreed opinion stood forth clearly today:

There is much that remains to be done in education, and the federal government must continue and expand its efforts to help.

President Johnson officially closed the two-day conference yesterday when he told the 709 invited participants their discussions would be used "as the basis for the evolution of new programs, actions and legislative proposals — wherever such proposals are appropriate."

The conference touched on every aspect of education, from the tiniest tots to graduate students seeking their Ph.D.'s.

The areas of greatest concern were school desegregation, dropouts, the decline of the big city schools, and preschool programs for deprived children of the urban slums.

In all these areas, and in others, the federal government was asked to step up its efforts and its financial expenditures to get things moving.

Johnson told the conference participants — leaders in education, business, labor and government — "your concern and mine is how we can remedy the serious defects of our present system, and how we can equip it to meet the new challenges which are already engulfing our nation and our world."

He drew a lengthy round of applause when he declared, "We are busy catching up with past failures, and we do not intend to fall behind again."

Rookie Officer Masquerades As Marijuana User

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 27-year-old rookie policeman's seven - month masquerade as a truck driver seeking kicks has been revealed following the arrest of 25 persons on narcotics charges.

Policeman Ron Limneos, who was taken off his undercover assignment this week after the successful arrests, said yesterday that he grew a moustache and sideburns and faked a limp.

All 25 of those arrested were charged with selling marijuana. Warrants also have been issued for the arrest of five other persons.

Limneos, who said he simulated smoking marijuana but never actually did, was graduated from the Police Academy with an impressive record last December.

More than 90,000 students have received bachelor and advanced degrees from the University of Washington in Seattle since its establishment in 1861.

State Candidates Now Must Swear Loyalty

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Candidates for public office soon will be required to take California's loyalty oath.

The requirement was contained in a bill signed into law by Gov. Edmund G. Grown. The measure was by Assemblyman Don A. Allen Sr., D-Los Angeles.

The oath, currently administered to all office holders and public employes, requires the taker to swear he does not belong to and will not join and organization advocating overthrow of the government by force or violence.

Brown's office also announced yesterday that the governor signed a measure allowing reimbursement to a citizen injured during an attempt to capture a criminal. The bill by Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, provides that claims be handled by the Board of Control and the legislature.

Explosion In Mine

HERNE, Germany (UPI)—Two explosions a few hours apart roared throught a coal mine here today. At least one miner was killed and eight others injured.

Pioneer Space Leader Is Dead

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Roy W. Johnson, the nation's first space chief, died today in Stamford Hospital after a long illness. He was 59.

Johnson gave up a $158,000-a-year job as executive vice president of General Electric Co. in 1958 to become director of the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

The agency was a forerunner of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Instead Of Dial-A-Prayer, It's Now Dial-A-Politician

WASHINGTON (AP) -- A "dial-a-politician" service has been thrown open to the public.

Call any hour of the day or night, and you may hear President Johnson's voice at the other end. Or if you dial the Republicans, you'll get the views of three or four GOP members of Congress or party leaders.

But there's no talking back.

It's all done by tape recording.

The initial purpose of the service operated separately by both parties was to provide radio and television stations with comment to record and play back on news broadcasts.

At first, only the stations were given the phone numbers.

But now anyone may dial.

Here are the telephone numbers:

Democrats — area code 202, telephone 333-8260.

Republicans — area code 202, telephone 544-7272.

Vandals At School

San Rafael police said today that someone broke into a girls' restroom at Davidson Junior High School last night, broke open a container of sanitary napkins, set them on the floor and burned them. Pry marks were also found on other doors and windows of the school.

Drug Suspect Enters Court

Ronald Keith Maska, 29, of Santa Ana, appeared before Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of selling marijuana.

The public defender's office was appointed to represent him and arraignment proceedings continued until 10 a.m. Monday.

Maska was the last of 11 adults arrested in a June 4 roundup of alleged marijuana sellers and users in southern Marin County. He is in county jail in lieu of $5,500 bail.

Drowsing Smoker Awakes In Fire

Charles J. Hruby of 1020 Los Gamos Road, Apt. J, San Rafael, fell asleep while smoking a cigarette on his bed yesterday afternoon. When he awoke his bedroom was in flames.

Hruby escaped injury to himself, but the flames and smoke did damage estimated at $1,500 to the apartment unit. The fire, confined to the bedroom, burned two beds, a rug, a nightstand, two lamps and a radio.

No other unit in the apartment house was damaged by the fire.

Doctor Speaks On Marijuana

Science has not been able to prove that there is any damage done to man's body by marijuana, Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt, San Rafael psychiatrist, told members of the Sausalito Democratic Club last night.

Gutstadt said he was not giving approval for use of marijuana. But, he added, he was not telling people to become alcoholics either.

Bruce B. Bales, Marin County district attorney, explained penalties for use and sale of marijuana. About 40 persons attended the meeting on "Teen-age marijuana problem in Marin" at the Alta Mira Hotel, including six or seven sandal-wearing teen-agers.

Car Well Clouted

Joel Andrews of 323 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police yesterday that someone stole a battery, undid spark plugs and pulled wires on his Chevrolet station wagon while it was parked in his carport Sunday.

Average American last year consumed 17 pounds, 11 ounces of candy, highest in 14 years.

Humane Official Asks Owners To Curb Dogs

Melvin L. Morse, Marin County Humane Society executive director, today warned dog owners they must "accept the responsibility of controlling their dogs."

Morse, speaking on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," said "no owner should complain if his dog is picked up while making itself a public nuisance."

The topic "Animal Control and Animal Welfare" was discussed by Morse; Irvin M. Sousa, humane society chief-investigator; Frederic D. Kerr, president of the society and Douglas J. Flautt, San Anselmo City Manager.

Flautt praised the work of the society and "its wonderful program." He attributed difficulties that San Anselmo has had with the society to "understaffing that they (the society) used to have to work under."

Flautt said he had not "been forced to call the society to complain in the last six months. We could never handle the job they do. All we do now is collect license fees. It would be too much for San Anselmo to set up its own animal control."

Kerr said the biggest problem of the humane society is the care of animal surplus. He said there is one cat for every three persons in Marin County and one dog for every five.

Sousa said the society is interested in solving animal problems through meetings with owners and complainants. "When we are able to do this every one usually goes away happy and the problem is solved."

"The hardest thing for people to understand is that not everybody loves their dog," added Morse.

In answer to a listener's request that the society stay open seven days a week so dogs may be claimed on Sundays, Kerr said, "if we did we would have a budget so large it would be impractical. The taxpayers would never go for it."

"Right now we are one of the few humane societies that stays open six days a week," chimed in Sousa.

Another caller asked why the society does not inform the owner immediately when a dog has been impounded.

"If the dog has been licensed we keep calling the owner until we get a hold of them. If it is unlicensed we put an ad in the Independent-Journal and run it for four days," replied Morse. He said that during the past fiscal years 2,000 pets were returned to their owners.

"We are concerned with animal welfare and we need the community's help in providing control. We can't do it all by ourselves," said Morse.

The broadcast, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, was taped for rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Envoy Ignored By Indonesians

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A heavy police guard was on hand last night for the arrival of U.S. Ambassador Marshal Green, but no anti-American demonstrations greeted the new envoy to Indonesia.

Communist organizations in Indonesia had opposed Green's arrival and renewed demands that President Sukarno sever relations with the United States.

Vandals Dump Paint

Chester L. Linden, foreman for Disheroon Painting Co. of San Jose, told police yesterday that vandals dumped paint on the floor and cabinets in a building under construction at 20 Driftwood, San Rafael. He estimated the damage at $35.

Sausalito Faces Dilemma On Dredging Application

If part of the Bay is diked in to form a pond, is that pond still part of the Bay?

This question puzzled Sausalito planning commissioners last night as they considered a request by Sausalito Properties Inc. to dredge 4,800 cubic yards of fill from the channel outboard of Sausalito Marin and place the fill in a pond on land between Locust and Litho streets.

The problem, according to Chairman Robert L. Nissen, is not io removing the fill, believed caused by the Alaskan quake and tidal wave, but in the proposal to place it into the pond. The pond, he said, was diked off from the Bay more than a year ago by Sausalito Properties without a permit.

Action was deferred pending a meeting of a committee with the applicant.

Nissen said the city must make two findings: That the fill project would be advisable to be undertaken before the expiration of the city's three-year Bay fill moratorium and, second, that the filling is of urgent importance to public health, safety and welfare.

Commissioners set Aug. 18 for public hearing on an appeal by sculptor Barney West from a decision of City Building Inspector William L. Hynes denying him a zoning and building permit for a structure at Bridgeway and Mono Street.

Mime Troupe Show Enters Final Week

McLain's Estate Willed To Kin

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Pension promoter George McLain, who died of a heart attack July 12 at the age of 64, left the bulk of his estate to his son, George Jr., and to his widow, Elenor.

McLain's will, filed for probate yesterday, also named the son executor of the estate. The widow received $15,000.

The younger McLain was named yesterday as secretary-treasurer of the California League of Senior Citizens, the organization his father headed.

NEW CHAIRMAN — Mrs. Myrtle Williams, only person whose name ever appeared in the California state constitution (in an amendment later repealed), was named yesterday to succeed the late George McLain as chairman of the California League of Senior Citizens. McLain, league founder, died last week. (UPI Telephoto)

Muggy Weather Covers Midwest, Northeast Cool

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Hot and muggy air moved back into the Midwest today. Isolated showers fell in upper Michigan and Colorado.

Temperatures remained in the 80s throughout Iowa and Missouri during the night, higher than daily maximum temperatures during the week. Wichita Falls, Tex., recorded its 16th consecutive day of temperatures of 100 degrees or higher yesterday.

The mercury climbed to 103 degrees at Pierre, S.D.

A dome of cool air over the northeast kept temperatures comfortable. The Weather Bureau said there was a possibility of record-breaking low temperatures for the third day in a row.

Sausalito's Library Needs To Grow, Says Consultant

Library consultant Helen Ridgway told the Sausalito Library board last night that she is "more and more aware" of the need of larger library facilities," citing that the reference room is now out of use during activities such as story hour and board meetings.

She said she is using a population projection of 12-15,000 people for a period of 10 to 20 years from now in her survey of proposed needs for the new library.

Checking with people in the community, she reported, she found that many persons did not know Sausalito has a public library.

The board accepted resignation of M. Justin Herman, who is moving to San Francisco, and agreed to add a book to the library to be selected by Herman and to be in thanks for his services, reported Mrs. James J. Carroll, board president.

Bomb Hoax Call Grounds Choppers

OAKLAND (UPI) — All three helicopters of the San Francisco-Oakland ferry fleet were grounded here for about an hour Tuesday because of a bomb hoax.

A telephone caller told an airlines official, "If any of your choppers go over 120 miles per hour, they'll blow up."

The aircraft were searched and no bombs were found.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Two More Insurance Offices Lined Up For Kaehler-Farrar

Two more inurance offices are lined up for the Kaehler-Farrar Building, San Rafael. One of these is already in business.

This is Monarch Insurance Co. of Ohio, with quarters on the second floor and under regional manager George T. Smith of San Anselmo. Smith says the office was established to service agents in Marin and Sonoma Counties and in the East Bay, though East Bay may prefer to handle their business through West Coast headquarters in San Francisco. He has been with the company 32 years in the city and traveling.

Monarch is a 100-year old company and a wholly owned subsidiary of Pearl Assurance Co. of London.

ANOTHER — Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of New Jersey will open Aug. 1. This will be a general agency and 1,770 square feet has been leased on the third floor. It will employ several agents and a fair-sized office staff.

Robert Money, coming from Cincinatti, will be the general agent. He and his family are taking a home in Greenbrae.

GOTELLI'S EQUIPMENT REPAIR, 46 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, which specializes in tool and equipment rentals, has a new weekend product for Saturday and Sunday putterers — ready-mixed concrete.

The operation is supplied those two days only and is being handled by Richard Gotelli and Neil Shooter. The equipment rental service is conducted seven days a week.

RICHARD L. KEHNE JR. of Sausalito has been elected vice president of Birr, Wilson and Co., San Francisco investment securities firm. He will continue as manager of the company's trading department.

A NEW BUSINESS MACHINE by the National Cash Register Co. has been announced by R. J. (Dick) Rice, Marin accounting and processing representative, who describes it as "the world's lowest cost fully electronic accounting system."

Called the NCR 395-300, it is designed to operate without customer programming, special site preparation or complex operator training. Punched card data input units and punched card and punched tape output units can be added to the system to fit the user's needs. It can handle alphabetic as well as numeric information, and in some processing jobs can operate completely unattended, Rice said.

The machine is already in production and is being sold through the San Rafael National Cash Register office.

WINNER in a nationwide drawing put on by Bruhn's Frozen Meats of Omaha is William Fleshman of Sausalito, who is now the owner of a new Ford Mustang. He filled in a blank at Marin Frozen Food Lockers, San Anselmo last month and the ticket was drawn from some 30,000 entries.

Marin Frozen Food was taken over by Bruhn's last January from Robert Bonn who has retired. David Bennett is manager here. Bruhn's has 40 outlets throughout the country.

SUBJECT FOR "SUCCESS STORY" in Standard Oil Co.'s Bulletin for July is Frank Hickman of Mill Valley, owner of Hickman' Chevron Service, 400 Miller Avenue.

Hickman first opened in 1948 and says he not only was the first Chevron operator on Miller Avenue, but the only station operator for blocks in any direction. With one assistant he managed to pump a few thousand gallons of gasoline a month. Since then his gallonage has increased five times and he employe seven people steadily and two part time.

SAN RAFAEL real estate broker Jane Fairchild will attend a three-day training session in buying, selling, leasing and managing farms and lands at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, next week during the annual Farms and Lands Educational Conference.

Stock Market Closes Lower In Slow Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in slow trading.

Wall Street was still awaiting a statement as to U.S. policy in Viet Nam but it was not forthcoming. Many traders and investors stood aside from the market.

Losses of some blue chips deepened as the session neared its end. Du Pont was off 2 and Kennecott about a point and a half.

Johns - Manville remained down more than a point.

General Motors erased a fractional gain.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.7 million shares compared with 4.36 million yesterday.

Here was the picture toward the close:

Gains and losses were fairly even, with changes ranging mostly from fractions to about a point.

Big Three motors firmed, all showing fractional gains after wavering at the start. Most of the major steels were easy. Oils, nonferrous metals and building materials were slightly lower.

Moderate gains among some of the aerospace stocks, chemicals, utilities, airlines, electronics and selected issues helped keep the list on an even keel.

Walter E. Heller traded on a big block of 46,800 shares, off ¼ at 12.

Cities Service, up 2, and McKesson & Robbins, Allied Mills, National Lead and Armstrong Cork were among the stronger features.

Down about a point were IBM, Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Burlington Industries, Monsanto and Singer.

Air Reduction was up about a point and Xerox rose about a point and a half.

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

Dodger Rooters Say Giants Can't Win Without Cepeda

CONNOLLY

LOS ANGELES—Prayer, as it is applicable to baseball, strictly is sectional. You discover this phenomena when rooting for the Giants in enemy territory. Down here fans are hoping Maury Wills, Sandy Koufax, and Don Drysdale stay healthy, and praying Orlando Cepeda, injured slugging first sacker, doesn't get back into the lineup.

"Cepeda is the only person who can keep the Dodgers from beating out San Francisco," declares Mel Durslag, Herald Examiner columnist and ardent Dodger rooter.

"How's Cepada?" inquires Ziff, LA Times sports commentator.

"If he can't play, we're a cinch," Mr. Ziff spouts.

And so it is with the big time writers in the city of Angels proper.

ut in Hollywood, Max Stiles, sports editor and columnist for the Hollywood Citizens News, waxes enthusiastic over the Dodgers' chances.

"THE FLYING feet of the LA club will bring us in ahead of the Giants and verly likely the National League championship," confides Mr. Stiles, one of America's greatest track and field writers, in addition to being a highly capable baseball and football scriverner.

Buzzy Bavasi, Dodger general manager, makes no secret that he is on the prowl for one more pitcher.

"WE'LL TAKE the worst of any deal to get some pitching help," Bavasi says. "But we're not expecting any help from the clubs who have surplus talent, like the Giants.

Bavasi thinks the Dodger pitching shortage is greater than that of the SF club.

"They have more pitching talent on their bench than any other National League team," he says.

WHAT BAVASI doesn't say, or admit, is the Dodgers win the close ball games by speed, the Giants lose 'em on account of the lack of speed.

So far the O'Malley clan is about 50,000 paid admissions over last year's figures after 44 games. In 1964 they collected 1,385,457 as against 1,344,060 up until last Sunday.

WALTER JOHNSON, Dodger field boss, says it is anybody's race at this time.

"It's a long way to go," he says, "and as the weather warms up, the pitchers will get better. The club that can keep a healthy team on the field will take it. Don't count anybody out of it yet."

It was nice news to read where Herman Franks got an extension on his managerial contract. It eliminates speculation later on. But votes of confidence by owners to managers in mid-season is old stuff and doesn't wear well.

PROBLEMS OF managers Franks and Alston are quite similar, where pitching is concerned.

Franks has Juan Marichal and Bob Shaw as his best steadies and Alston has Drysdale and Koufax.

But Claude Osteen shades Gaylord Perry, the Giant's third string pitcher. And after three flingers, it is a grab bag affair for both leaders.

IN RECENT figures released here the Dodgers are down only to Milwaukee, (won 3, lost 4). All other teams the've played they have won more than they lost. Against the Giants they're (8 and 4) on the season so far.

WITH THE Giants it has also been Milwaukee with 4 wins and 0 for S.F.; Pittsburgh as an edge with 5 wins for them and 6 defeats for us. We've got skimpy edges over Cincy, St. Louis and Chicago.

But for the balance of the summer it is bound to be a see-saw scrap with the front runners bumping into each other most of the way.

Casey Back In '66? No, Yes, Maybe

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel, overcome by emotion at a premature 75th birthday party, created a wild flurry of excitement today when he was retired and unretired within a few minutes.

Stengel told reporters at the office of Mayor Robert F. Wagner he hoped to leave a young News York Met team "when I leave this here ball club this fall."

Later a Met public relations official said Stengel had been misinterpreted and really meant "when he leaves this ball club to go home to California after the season."

Harold Weissman, Met publicity chief, said Stengel told him:

"I meant, when I leave to go home after the season. My contract is up to the club officials. I'm 75. Who knows about next year? You can't tell. They might not want me. We haven't even sat down and talked yet. Right now, I have no intention of retiring."

George Weiss, president of the Mets who came to the club after both he and Stengel left the Yanks after the 1960 season, said Stengel never had suggested to him he wanted to retire.

"The situation in 1965 is no different than it has been ever since I have been associated with Casey," said Weiss. "Whenever his contract is up, we always follow the same procedure. We sit down and talk it over. It has never come up this year. Presumably it will be the same as always. Casey will wait until the season is over."

Stengel made his surprise announcement at City Hall, where Mayor Robert F. Wagner read a proclamation declaring Friday as Casey Stengel Day in honor of his 75th birthday on July 30. The team will be on the road then.

A Dividend From Giant Bonus Babe

Bob Schroder, who the San Francisco Giants would love to farm out, has proven the value of inexperience in baseball.

The 20-year-old infielder from New Orleans is one of two high-bracket bonus players with the Giants. Under the first-year rule that ends this year, the Giants can't send Schroder down until next season without losing him to another club for a modest $8,000.

Because they paid him $50,000 last year for his signature, this won't happen. So, for most of the season, he's sat on the bench and done little.

But yesterday at Candlestick Park, with the score tied 4-4 in the 11th inning with the bases loaded and one out, San Francisco manager Herman Franks scanned the bench for a pinch-hitter and found no one he hadn't used except Schroder and the other bonus boy, Ken Henderson.

Jim Hart had led off the 11th with an infield single off Cincinnati reliever Roger Craig and moved to second on Leo Cardenas' throwing error, the Reds' fourth error of the contest. Dick Bertell then sacrificed.

The next two Giants were purposely walked to get at the spot occupied by reliever Masanori Murakami.

Schroder batted for Murakami and took three straight balls before Craig threw a strike. The next pitch was stroked by the left-handed batter to the bottom of the right field screen for Schroder's second major league hit and first run-batted-in.

"The manager told me if I get a good pitch to hit it," said an overjoyed Schroder. "At 3-and-1, I was looking for a fast ball and I got it."

The ball sailed over the head of right-fielder Frank Robinson, who was playing moderately shallow in the do-or-die situation. He didn't even make an effort on the hit and said later, "If I had played normally, it would have been an easy out."

After the Reds had jumped on starter Juan Marichal for all four of their runs, the Giants came up with three runs in the ninth that tied it 4-4.

Jesus Alou opened with a single off Reds' starter John Tsitouris and Willie McCovey hit his 21st home run barely over the right-center field fence.

Hart walked, moved to second on a wild pitch by relieer Gerry Arrigo and scored on Cap Peterson's pinch-hit single to right, just barely beating Robinson's throw to the plate.

Peterson stayed on first, watching the play, and admitted after the contest that he should have taken second on the throw to the plate. Jim Davenport followed with a double that moved him to third base before the third out.

All this set the stage for Murakami's two perfect innings with four strikeouts for his third victory against one defeat, and Schroder's blast that handed winless Craig his third setback.

READY TO GO — Warren Spahn donned Giants cap and flashed big smile yesterday as he arrived to join the pitching staff of the San Francisco club. Released last week, the 44-year-old pitcher was named starter in today's game against Cincinnati at Candlestick Park.

ASSAULT TRIAL

Brown Unshaken In Cross-Exam

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 40-minute cross-examination of fullback Jim Brown today failed to change his testimony that he never struck or had sex relations with Brenda Ayres, the 18-year-old girl who has accused him of assault and battery.

Assistant City Prosecutor Albert Corsi reviewed in cross-examination the 23 minutes of defense testimony Brown gave at the end of yesterday afternoon's session of the trial, now in its ninth day.

Then Corsi introduced Brenda's two sisters, Lenore, 17, and Theresa, 15, and a neighbor of the Ayres family, Mrs. Gladys Taylor. All of them testified Brenda's eyes appeared darkened when she arrived home about 5 p.m. June 20. The sisters said Brenda had bruises on her hip and arm.

Miss Ayres has accused the Cleveland Browns star of slapping her in a motel room the night of June 19 and having sexual relations with her. When he pleaded innocent, Brown asked for a jury trial.

The case is expected to reach the jury of seven women and five men in Judge Blanche Krupansky's Municipal Court later today.

In his direct testimony yesterday, Brown said the girl's accusations that she had sexual relations with him eight times since they first met May 12 were absolutely false. He said her charge of assault and battery was completely false.

Brown said the girl came to his motel room at 3 a.m. June 20, that he talked to her and then went to play golf. He said he used the room as a sort of retreat, but it is not his.

In a clear, firm voice, the 29-year-old Brown described the girl's insistence on seeing him.

Brown testified she wanted to come in to explain an earlier conversation between them in his automobile. "We talked about it but we came to no understanding," Brown said.

In that talk, he said, "she wanted money and in return she would have relationships with me." He told her to leave the car, he said.

When Miss Ayres came into the room, Brown said, he was wearing a terry cloth wrap-around towel that covered him to his knees.

He quoted Miss Ayres as saying she didn't mean what she had said about relations and money."

After a telephone call to play golf, Brown said, he got dressed in his golf clothes and when he was ready to leave she declined his offer to take her home. He identified the caller as John Wooten, Browns' offensive guard.

"She didn't want to go," Brown said, "and I threatened to call her mother. She wouldn't move."

Brown said he "threw a $5 bill down and said whenever you get ready, go, and I walked out." He said he told her to call a taxi.

Brenda had been to Brown's room twice previously, he said. The first time she was with a girl friend and the other time with her younger sister.

MARIN COUNTY PLAYOFFS

Novato Youth Fans 17 In Little League No-Hitter

Pitching was the thing yesterday in Marin County Little League Team Champions Tournament action, one no-hitter and two one-hitters out of four games played.

Novato, behind the no-hit pitching of Stan Erickson, topped Strawberry 4-0; Twin Cities League's North Bay Lumber team nipped San Rafael National Lions on a four-hitter by John Moresco; Tiburon Warriors edged Hamilton-Loma Verde Cardinals 2-0 on the strength of a one-hitter by Scott Trobbe, and San Rafael American League Kiwanis whipped the Marinwood Giants 11-4.

Erickson, a 12-year-old right-hander simply overpowered the Strawberry team. No little feller he, Erickson stands 5-11 and weighs 185 pounds. He struck out 17 batters and had a hand in the other putout of the game, taking a soft tap back to him and throwing out the runner. He walked only two.

Paul Beaudoin with two hits and Cliff Jacobson with a two-run single were the batting stars for Novato.

Moresco struck out 11 batters on his way to a victory over the San Rafael Lions. He got his team's only hit and scored the only run in the seventh inning. Starting off the extra inning, Moresco got a single, stole second and then got to third on a wild pitch. He scored when teammate Brad Belden grounded out.

Losing pitcher Bruce DeAmbra pitched a beautiful game, but had the misfortune of losing a one-hitter. He struck out 13.

Tiburon's 2-0 win came in the top of the sixth when the Warriors scored the game's only runs. Trobbe struck out 11 on his way to a one-hitter. Losing pitcher Dave Perron struck out 13 and gave up only four hits. Tiburon second baseman Bill Kinser knocked in both runs with a single to left field.

In San Rafael's 11-4 win, Paul Dillman and Charles Gray each had a double and two singles to account for all the team's hits. Many of the runs were unearned because of Marinwood errors. Winning pitcher George Baldini struck out 10 batters.

In semi-final games tomorrow, it's North Bay Lumber vs. Tiburon at Tiburon and San Rafael Kiwanis vs. Novato Yankees at Novato, both games starting at 6 p.m. Championship game will be Saturday at Joe Wagner Field in Larkspur, 3 p.m.

Marin Softballers Near State Final

Dave Hughes rapped a two-run fifth inning triple to give Sohner Tree Service a 2-1 victory over Good Spot of Sonoma County in the district finals of the State Softball Tournament at Santa Rosa last night.

The win gives Sohner a 3-0 tournament record and moves the Treemen to within one victory of a berth in the State Tournament in Hayward next month.

By defeating the Larkfield Merchants of Santa Rosa tomorrow night, Sohner can clinch a first or second place finish in the 15-team double-elimination tournament.

Since the first two finishers in the tournament are guaranteed a berth in the Hayward finals, a win Friday would assure Sohner of becoming Marin's first representative in the state championship in recent years.

Larkfield, also boasting a 3-0 record, upset top-ranked Burbank Dairy last night to become the tourney's only other undefeated team. Six other teams have one loss and seven teams have been eliminated.

In winning last night, Sohner tagged crafty Don Higgens with his first loss of the year. The 44-year-old veteran had a 12-0 record and a miscroscopic 0.33 earned run average.

Good Spot scored its run in the fourth inning when Don Blank opened the inning with a triple and romped home on a single by Tom Glover.

Sohner's winning rally in the fifth inning came with two outs. After an error and an infield hit, the lefthanded batting Hughes drilled a line triple down the right field line to score both runners.

Two great defensive plays saved the Marin softballers. First-sacker Ed Schulze made a diving stop of line drive that would have been a game-tying double in the sixth and left-fielder Bill Haymart fired a strike to catcher Jess Munyon to nip Good Spot's George Slender at the plate in the second inning.

The line score:

| | | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Good Spot | 000 100 0 | 1 | 6 | 2 |
| Sohner | 000 020 x | 2 | 4 | 2 |

Last Inning Wins For Softballers

Last inning surges in a pair of San Rafael Recreation Department Slow Pitch League games highlighted the second week of play.

Chuck Smith hit a two-run homer to give the Paradise Cove Yacht Club team an 8-7 triumph over the Patrolmen, and Frank Rolo drove in the winning run for the Harding and Associates Gophers who nipped the Ten Plus Two team 3-2.

In the other game of the week, Pepsi Cola whipped the Independent-Journal team 8-7.

Lee Whiffs 11 As S.R. Legion Smacks Vallejo

San Rafael Wilkins Post 37 American Legion whipped Vallejo 10-3 yesterday in North Bay American Legion baseball action on the losers' field.

Winning pitcher Bill Lee went the distance and allowed only four hits, striking out 11. All three runs off him were unearned.

Rocky Shone had a solo homer and totaled two runs batted in and two scored. Bob Lombardi had a double and single, George King had two singles, and Lee helped out with a pair of singles.

Manager Don Lucas praised the defensive play of shortstop Fred Daniele and third baseman Dave Beswick, two boys he brought in from the outfield to take over the infield spots.

San Rafael, now 10-7 in league and 16-9 overall, next play Santa Rosa Saturday at Albert Field, San Rafael, 8 p.m. The Wilkins team then closes out its schedule Sunday in a non-league game against Danville, also at Albert Field, 5:30 p.m.

Ex-Giants Spark Sizzling Braves

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's plenty of Giant left in Felipe Alou, who's been cashing Milwaukee Brave paychecks for two seasons now.

Alou, like any good Giant would, turned ferocious when he saw the Los Angeles Dodgers last night and the result was 6-4 Milwaukee victory, the ninth straight triumph for the red-hot Braves.

Felipe's two brothers, Matty and Jesus, still wear San Francisco uniforms but the elder Alou was traded to the Braves after the 1963 season in a six-player trade that brought Bob Shaw to the Giants.

Injuries limited Alou last year but the 30-year-old outfielder-first baseman was feeling no pain against the Dodgers last night. He stroked three singles and a double, drove in two runs and scored one in pacing Milwaukee's victory.

Hank Aaron chipped in with three hits including his 20th homer of the year and Billy O'Dell's sharp relief pitching saved it for Wade Blasingame's 11th victory.

Alou's four hits lifted his average to .295, one point above younger brother Jesus.

The defeat snapped a six-game Dodger winning streak and left Los Angeles 3½ games in front of second place Cincinnati and four up on the streaking Braves.

Elsewhere in the National League, Al Jackson pitched a two-hitter as the New York Mets blanked Pittsburgh 1-0, San Francisco nipped Cincinnati 5-4 in 11 innings, Houston blanked St. Louis 2-0 on Bob Bruce's six-hitter and Chicago edged Philadelphia 8-7 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Baltimore swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 1-0 and 9-2, Minnesota won two from Boston 8-6 and 11-8, New York edged Chicago 7-6 in 10 innings, Los Angeles shut out Washington 2-0 in 10 innings and Detroit took a pair from Cleveland 10-5 and 2-1.

Aaron's 20th homer in the first inning helped Milwaukee build a 3-0 lead for Blasingame. The Ddogers knocked the young left-hander out with a three run rally in the seventh but O'Dell shut the door in the last two innings.

Jackson pitched no-hit ball for 7 1-3 innings before Willie Stargell broke the spell with a clean single to left. Pinch hitter Ossie Virgil got the other Pirate hit, a leadoff single in the ninth.

The Mets, who snapped a 10-game losing streak, got their only run in the fifth when Chuck Hiller scored all the way from second on Bill Mazeroski's error.

20 On Roster For Top Baseball Job

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Odds are 3 to 1 that the next commissioner of baseball will be a man not connected with the game

This deduction is based on the number of candidates still in the running to succeed Ford Frick, who will retire at the end of the season after 14 years in office.

According to owners John Galbreath of the Pittsburgh Pirates and John Fetzer of the Detroit Tigers, the special two man committee named to screen candidates, the original list of 150 eligibles has been trimmed to 20, of which "Four or five" are baseball men.

That would leave about 15 names either in the judicial, political or business field.

None of the names was made public but Gable Paul, president of the Cleveland Indians, said the list included "some very important persons."

There is reason to believe that the important names include supreme court justice Byron (Whizzer) White, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, William Shea, New York attorney and founder of the Mets; Robert F. Wagner, retiring mayor of New York, former vice president Richard Nixon and judge Robert Cannon, legal consul to the major league ball players.

The candidates in baseball are headed by American League President Joe Cronin. Others reportedly in the list include Lee MacPhail, president of the Baltimore Orioles; E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, vice president of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Ralph Houk, vice president of the New York Yankees.

No club owners are on the list, said Galbreath.

At the joint meeting of the major league club owners yesterday, Fetzer and Galbreath submitted the names of the 20 remaining candidates for further consideration. It is from these 20 that the new commissioner will be chosen. Fetzer and Galbreath estimated that the election would probably take place shortly after the 1965 World Series.

Met-Brave Trade To Be Probed By Frick

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said yesterday he planned to investigate the recent waiver trade between the New York and Milwaukee clubs in which the Mets sent catcher Jesse Gonder to the Braves in exchange for utility player Gary Kolb.

The transaction was consummated Tuesday.

Gonder, a left-handed batter, sat on the bench throughout a four-game series between the two clubs in Milwaukee ending Tuesday afternoon although the Braves started four right-handed pitchers. Chris Cannizzaro, a right-handed hitter, caught all four games. The Braves swept the series.

Frick said he was calling for an investigation because of a newspaperman's suggestion that the Braves might have requested the Mets not to use Gonder against them.

FIRST BIG UPSET IN MARIN JUNIOR TENNIS

Bill Logan was the first seeded player to lose in this year's Marin County Junior Tennis Tournament when Chris Braun surprised him in the boys 12 division.

Braun ousted the No. 2 seed in a well played match, winning 8-6, 5-7, 6-3.

All other top seeded players advanced as expected. Third seeded Brice Basset was forced to go all out before beating Woodacre's hard-hitting Andy Giddings 2-6, 7-5, 9-7, in boys 14. Trailing 2-6, 2-4, Brice rallied to win the second set 7-5, and then found himself again behind in the third set 6-7, 30-40. Brice, remaining calm throughout the match, rallied to win. It was the tourney's best played match so far.

The day was also highlighted by the impressive play of Glen Pritzker, top seeded in boys 18. Glen returned everything hit in his direction by powerful Lance Russell and posted a 6-0, 6-1, victory.

Marin Colt All-Stars In Tourney

Boasting eight returnees off a team that made it all the way to the regionals last year, the Central Marin Colt League All-Stars start play in a four-team sectional tournament Saturday in Petaluma.

The Marin team will be competing against all-star teams from three other leagues, Redding, Redwood Empire and Redwood Empire National. First game for Central Marin will be against Redding Saturday at 3 p.m. The tourney is being played at McNear Field.

Last year's Central Marin team lost to Campbell-Morland in the regionals at Springville, Utah, and that team went on to win the national title. Back from that 1964 Marin team are Ray Biagini, Gerry Handlos, Ken Johnson, Barry Ott, Jim Scoville, Jeff Smith, Bob Torrey and Keith Valk.

If Central Marin wins the double elimination tourney this week, next will be regionals at Provo, Utah, divisionals at Ukiah, and nationals at Shawnee, Okla.

The sectional tourney will run Saturday through Tuesday for the 15- and 16-year-old ball players.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Consensus Says Striper Angling Is Bad But Here's One Exception

STEVENS

The vagaries of fishing luck intrigue. The consensus among anglers, party-boat operators and boateries has been (and is, generally) that fishing for striped bass in the San Pablo Bay and environs has been a waste of time. Yet, in the midst of all the crepe-hanging comes word of a perfect trip had by a group of South County anglers. Not, mind you, a single person catching one or two fish, but a five-man party that fished by the Radar Screen on Monday. Fifteen stripers were boated by the quintet consisting of Tony and Mike Castro, Danny and Charles Castro and Harry Moto. Fish ran from 12 to 15 pounds and were fresh runners. All taken while trolling with white Bugeye jigs and Pet Spoons on spreaders.

JOE WUN WHO called Monday night to report the above also gave honorable mention to Gerald Palmer for his 53-pound sturgeon, and to Shorty Fazzio and Bill Downs who boated one sturgeon each. All caught in the lower Suisun Bay near the "mothball fleet."

By the way—if you have an urge to slay an antelope in Modoc or Lassen counties, applications for the special 1965 hunt are ready. Pick one up at most any license agent or the Department of Fish and Game. You can also get all information for the hunt scheduled from Aug. 21 through Sept. 5. Hunters may file only one application, but two persons may file as a party by submitting applications in one envelope. Applications must be received by the Department of Fish and Game License Section, 1416 Ninth Street, Sacramento, before 5 p.m. Aug. 2. You will be notified if you are one of the successful applicants for the 240 buck antelope permits.

THE FOLLOWING waters in the central costal area are scheduled to be restocked with catchable size trout— by counties:

LAKE—Anderson Creek, Lower Kelsey Creek, Upper Kelsey Creek. MENDOCINO — Cleone Lake. MONTEREY — Big Sur River. SAN FRANCISCO—South Lake Merced. SAN LUIS OBISPO — Lower Nacimiento River. SAN MATEO—Pescadero Creek, Fall Creek, San Lorenzo River. (The above schedule is, as always, subject to changes caused by weather and water conditions.

EVER HEAR OF "Instinct Shooting?" Neither have I, but if you will take the time to write to George Carson, Daisy, Rogers, Arkansas 72756: asking for his booklet "Instinct Shooting," like I am doing, and mention that you read about it in this column, you'll get the answer. Carson almost guarantees you will become at least a good hunter, and at best, an expert. (All practice is done with a BB-gun). And that is it for today. Chow!

Athenians Riot Over King-Cabinet Squabble

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Baton-wielding police battled into the early hours today to crush violent anti-government student rioting that left one dead and more than 170 others injured.

More than 300 persons were arrested. An immediate solution to the political crisis was not in sight.

The bloody and destructive demonstration erupted here last night as nationwide protests mounted over King Constantine's week-old decision to oust popular Premier George Papandreou.

The power struggle the first critical test for the 25-year-old monarch—broke into the open last Thursday when the king turned down Papandreou's demand to fire Defense Minister Peter Garafoulias and give the post to him.

Both Papandreou and Athanassiadis-Novas are members of the ruling Center Union party. Papandreou, claiming the king had no right to interfere in politics, promptly branded the new premier a "traitor" for accepting the post.

Sources said Papandreou now will settle for nothing less than new elections as a solution to the crisis.

Spider Mites Take Pesticide Baths

WALTHAM, Mass. (UPI) — That bane of fruit growers, the spider mite, is being studied by scientists at the Waltham Field Station.

The researchers have immersed the mite colonies in pesticides through as many as 300 generations. In terms of human life, this would span 6,000 years. The mites produce a new generation every 6½ days.

Family Reunions, Weddings Come In Summer Season

By MOLLY MARIN

Summer is a popular time for family reunions . . .

Mrs. B. G. Johnston of Belvedere has all eight of her grandchildren together "for the first time in ages," as she says. Mrs. Richard Oller (Jean Johnston) and her daughters, Lyn, 13, and Betsy, 10, are spending the summer here from their home in Woodmere, Long Island.

Two other daughters, Mrs. Jack Welisch (Marian Johnston) and Mrs. Peggy Johnston Wilson, are now living in Belvedere. Mrs. Johnston and Jean and her girls have just returned from a stay at the Donald Westerbekes' country place in Sonoma, and soon leave for a two weeks vacation at Lake Tahoe, where they have taken a home on the north shore. Only one young member of the clan is missing —he is Mrs. Johnston's grandson, Roger Wilson, who is spending the summer in Idaho working on a ranch.

THE EDGAR T. Lindner family of Ross will leave next week for Portland, Ore., to participate in festivities prior to the wedding of their son, Eric Lindner, and Sharon May Gowdy on July 31. Tod Lindner will be best man for his brother, and his sister Jane will be one of the bridesmaids. The Lindners will give the rehearsal dinner in the Pavilion Room of the Portland Hilton. Following the ceremony, Jane will accompany her grandparents, the Robert R. Rennies of San Francisco, on a trip to Vancouver, Wash.

Done in green striped knitwool, the outfit has a thigh-long shirt-collared, brown-trimmed jersey with tight-fitting pants meeting knee-high stockings in same brown as trimmings. A double face outer skirt extends from green belt and also makes up the hat. (UPI Cablephoto)

Club members who will be going south to cheer on the club's yacht Kay Too in the challenge cup races this weekend. Past commodores Paul Marcucci and Dr. Paul De Silva will fly down on Saturday as will the William Votaws of Tiburon and the Irving Harrises of Belvedere. Mrs. "Hap" McGill of Mill Valley and Mrs. Roy Ashley of Corte Madera are leaving today to join their husbands, who are crew members on the racing yacht.

JUDGE AND MRS. SAMUEL GARDINER entertained 175 guests last week in the garden and the pool area at their San Rafael home. The cocktail party was held from 4 to 7 p.m. to introduce friends to their new home on Fairhills Drive.

A GROUP OF LUCAS VALLEY neighbors who are dance enthusiasts gathered for cocktails and dinner-dancing at the Peacock Gap Country Club on Saturday. The six couples included the John Childs, Donald Kimballs, Leroy Riddles, Dr. Charles Bingers, Edward Baileys and the Lawrence Keeneys.

SEEING WESTERN AMERICA are Dr. and Mrs. William Atchley of Belvedere. Accompanied by Mimi, Bill Jr. and Mark, they will tour Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado, and return to Belvedere by way of Oregon. They'll be visiting colleges and national parks along the way.

THREE YOUNG GIRLS from Monterey, Mexico are house guests of the John Osborns on the Belvedere Lagoon. Salina, Miriam and Elissa Rodriguez are accompanying their doctor father on a trip to California. The Mexican doctor has been conferring with Dr. Osborn during his stay in San Francisco.

BRENDA DALY, who will bow at the Marin Debutante Ball in December, was the honor guest at a luncheon given today by her aunt, Mrs. Carlton Mathewson of San Francisco at the Seven Seas . . .

WHEN MRS. RALPH Meyers left her home in Geneva, Switzerland to return to Belvedere for a summer visit, she had a marriage and an engagement to announce.

Her oldest daughter, Jeanne, was married this spring to Leland Gardner Embry and now lives in San Francisco. Her second daughter Kathy, will become the bride of Geoffrey Robinson at ceremonies in Middlebury, Vt. on Sept. 4. To add a further international note, Geoffrey's parents, formerly of Michigan, are now living in India.

Both girls will be honored at a brunch and shower to be given by Mrs. Robert Bastian at her home on the Belvedere Lagoon on Saturday.

Ralph Meyers, a former mayor of Belvedere, is an electrical engineer for a firm with European headquarters at Geneva. The family has lived in the Swiss city for six years. Mrs. Meyers is staying in the home they own in Belvedere until the first of August. She will remain in California until mid-August.

The third Meyers daughter, Terry, was graduated from the International School at Geneva this year. She spent her junior year at Redwood High School, living with the Russell Rices in Belvedere. She plans to attend the College of Marin this fall and will be with the Sherman Petersons in Tiburon for the year.

Kathy, a senior at Middlebury College, is working at the John Bridgman's ranch in Mendocino county this summer. She is in Belvedere this week, trousseau shopping with her mother.

Twenty Belvedere friends of Mrs. Meyers and her daughters will attend Mrs. Bastian's party. Two of the guests, Lindsay Brooke and Mrs. Robert Ostaggi (the former Molly Lewis) have visited the Meyers in Geneva.

Ralph Meyers will fly to California in August, and after a week's visit in Belvedere, he and Alice will go on to Washington, D. C. and then to New England to complete plans for Kathy's wedding. In September the couple will return to Switzerland where their home is always open to old friends from Belvedere.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH H. SIMON of Fairfax were honored at a garden reception on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Sousa celebrating the Simon's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The surprised couple were presented with a money tree of silver dollars by friends. Mrs. Simon, the former Dorothy Sousa, is the daughter of Antonio Faustine Sousa, a pioneer settler of the 1860s. Mr. Simon is a native of San Francisco and has many Marin friends. Among the 75 guests were Gerry Eastman of Sausalito, Mrs. R. E. Davenport of Novato, Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Kay of San Anselmo.

BAD SPOT TO HORN IN

Farmer Louis Budnick ponders the plight of his young Black Angus steer, whose curiosity got the better of him. The nosy animal got stuck Friday in the knothole of a huge old apple tree, and there he stayed for nearly 24 hours. Finally, the Spring Valley, Ill., farmer freed his valuable livestock by gingerly enlarging the knothole with an ax. (AP Wirephoto)

Population Bureau For U.S. Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Sen. Kenneth P. Keating, R-N.Y., yesterday urged creation of a federal bureau of family development and planning services to give birth control "major attention."

Keating, national chairman of the Population Crisis Committee, advocated "a straightforward, front-door approach to population and family planning instead of the back-door approach that we are now taking."

The former senator testified before a Senate Government Operations Subcommittee considering legislation which would authorize a White House conference on population in 1967.

Keating said he was opposed to making family planning services compulsory. But he said the government should be able to offer advice, training and other assistance.

"Family planning deserves to be more than just a Cinderella in the health household," he said. "It deserves major attention."

Keating suggested that his proposed bureau of family development and planning services be placed in the U.S. Public Health Service.

Overseas family planning services, he added, might better be placed there than under the Agency for International Development, where he said there has been a reduction in health personnel and programs.

GENEALOGIST'S NIGHTMARE

Sharon Kay Hughes, 16-year-old seventh-grader from rural Jackson, Ohio, recently became a great-grandmother through marriage to construction worker Wesley D. Bowen, 62. Bowen, who divorced his first wife five years ago after 39 years of marriage and five children, won parental consent to the match. The newlyweds have five grandchildren and one great-grandchild. ## Archivist Discovers Error In State Seal

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — An archivist at the New Mexico Records Center has discovered an error in the state seal, originally adopted in 1887.

Dr. Myra Ellen Jenkins discovered that the seal shows an American eagle and a Mexican eagle as bald. State Records Director Joe Halpin said the American eagle has a head of white feathers and the Mexican eagle is brown.

San Anselmo developed from a "wide spot in the road" to "the Junction," as it was known for several years, when the North Pacific Coast Railroad added a spur track on July 25, 1874, extending from San Anselmo to San Rafael.

'Strangelove' Backs Use Of Wire Taps

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Federal tax agent George Wilson told Senate investigators yesterday the Internal Revenue Service has to "fight fire with fire" in dealing with hoodlums and racketeers.

Wilson, dubbed by a witness Tuesday as the "Dr. Strangelove" of the RS office in Boston, appeared before a Senate subcommittee investigating wire tapping and other government snooping activity. He said he ordered special agent James J. O'Neill, the Boston office's bugging expert, to place wire taps only on three occasions.

He said one tap was placed in a Lynn, Mass., warehouse suspected of being a bookie headquarters. And the other two, he said, were in connection with gambling at an unidentified military installation and thievery from an unidentified Navy installation.

Subcommittee Chairman Edward V. Long, D-Mo., said in a closing statement that Washington officials should be blamed for wiretapping by tax agents in the Boston area.

Long ended three days of hearings into wiretapping activities of the Boston IRS office with the comment that the agents there should "not be punished or reprimanded." He said he feels the Washington office supplied the equipment and allowed the practices.

Spanish Not Only Other Language

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—"Are you bilingual?" an interpreter asked yesterday an applicant for one of the government's antipoverty jobs in the Spanish-speaking area of Arizona.

The applicant said he was—but looked befuddled when the next question came in Spanish.

"Are you sure you're bilingual?" he was asked again.

"Absolutely," the man replied, and he rattled off long sentences in Hungarian.

Using Space Over, Under Freeways Called Inevitable

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A state highway official said Tuesday that utilization of space over and under freeways was inevitable because of the "ever-increasing shortage of land."

The comment was by Robert B. Bradford, administrator of the California Highway Transportation Agency, at a meeting he called to discuss how best to use the space. The session was attended by state, federal, county and city officials.

Further meetings were scheduled tentatively for Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The officials discussed using the space for buildings, parks and even helicopter landing pads.

Bradford said the legislature and Congress had cleared the way for the use of space and "it is now time to hold preliminary discussions." He added, "The state is ready to promote double or triple use where feasible."

"We should establish within the next few months whether we have a community of interests in this," the administrator said. "We need a yes or no from the cities and counties on whether we want imaginative, bold freeway programs, and we need suggestions."

Richard Carpenter of the League of California Cities said "We are interested in a full partnership."

Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan told the conference that the decision of the local governments as to use of the space should be final and should be made before the state gets involved.

Boyd P. Whelin, a director of the City of Pasadena, said his city was talking about putting a section of decking over roadway and putting a park on top of it. He said decking also could be used for heliport pads and even tennis courts.

Stiffer Penalties Become Law By Brown Signature

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill has been signed increasing maximum sentences for persons convicted of certain violent crimes, Gov. Edmund Brown's office announced yesterday.

The measure by Sen. Frank S. Peterson, D-Ukiah, increases the maximum penalty for assault with a deadly weapon and non-traffic manslaughter from 10 to 15 years. The bill also increases from two to 10 years the maximum sentence for inflicting punishment causing injury to a wife or child.

The maximum penalty for assault with intent to commit a felony is increased from five to 15 years.

"Present penalty maximums permit the California Adult Authority less flexibility in dealing with the kind of person who has failed to respond to institutional said.

DA Expands Charges In Fracas Case

The Sonoma County district attorney added three more charges yesterday to complaints faced by five San Rafael men arrested June 20 after a fight at the Petaluma Fairgrounds.

All five were given another week delay before entering their pleas. They are scheduled to appear next Wednesday before Judge Rolland C. Webb in Petaluma Justice Court.

Louis M. Molles, 28, of 11 Roger Drive, already charged with resisting arrest and disturbing the peace, was also charged with battery on a police officer. Richard W. Gudgel, 19, of 15 Charlotte Drive, already charged with resisting arrest, disturbing the peace and inciting a riot, was charged also with battery on a police officer.

Also facing prosecution are:

Ronald D. Abrao, 21, of 609 C Street, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and inciting a riot; Thomas D. Palmer, 19, of 523 D Street, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, and Frank E. Molles, 25, of 83 Woodland Avenue, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and inciting a riot.

Petaluma Police Officer James Matthews was treated at Petaluma General Hospital after he was hit during the fracas. It erupted as auto races were going on in the fairgrounds.

Deputy Races Angered Bear Around Tree

PORTERVILLE (UPI) — Vacationing Kern County Deputy Sheriff Norvan Powers of Bakersfield ran a foot race of sorts with an enraged black bear and won.

Powers Monday saw the 300-pound animal trying to shake five children out of a tree house near his mountain cabin at Sugar Loaf Peak. He hurled a stone at the bear and the animal turned and charged.

Powers fled around a tree with the bear at his heels, but then managed to turn and pump six shots into the onrushing animal with his .357 magnum pistol. The creature dropped dead a few feet from him.

"There really wasn't much to it," he said.

Icebox Murder

REPUBLIC, Pa. (AP) — Last Saturday night two young boys were found asphyxiated in an unused refrigerator. Today the aunt of one is held on murder charges. # Today's Car Smog Laws Still Too Complex, Unfair

The forced installation of crankcase car smog devices on used cars has been a sore point with us ever since the controversy erupted more than a year ago.

At that time, we agreed wholeheartedly with two Marin residents, Lester Jennings and Lars Williamson, coordinators of the Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression.

Their contention was and is that smog control devices should be factory-installed; that they should not be forced on used cars that have long since left the factory. In other words, control of car fumes and exhaust should be the responsibility of the car manufacturer, not private owners of cars as old as 1950 models.

Opposition from the public, press and from men like Jennings and Williamson, induced the state Legislature to take another look at the whole car smog picture. They agreed to revamp the law, and did during the Legislative session just ended.

But the new set of regulations, signed into law last week, while not quite as restrictive as those tried last year, is nevertheless just as complicated and confusing.

We have come to the conclusion that the most practical approach toward car smog control is for the state or the federal government to deal directly with car manufacturers and not tinker with cars that are already on the road.

After a year of extensive hearings by legislative committees, and reams of testimony by various experts in the smog field, we get a new law with these provisions:

Crankcase devices required on all 1963-65 cars. On 1955 to 1962 models, crankcase devices are required when the ownership is transferred, in areas that have air pollution control districts.

From 1967, crankcase devices will be required on all 1955 to 1962 models in the control districts.

In the control districts, exhaust devices (which are in addition to crankcase devices) will be required on 1955 to 1965 cars, beginning the second year after the state approves two devices. The maximum cost of exhaust devices would be $65, including cost of device and installation.

Both crankcase and exhaust equipment will be required on all domestic cars made in 1966 or later. This will apply statewide.

And these are only a portion of the provisions in the law. But the listing is enough to show the inequities and the complexities in the new law.

We had hoped that the Legislature would come up with a simpler and more practical solution.

How can you defend a law as equitable when an owner of a 1955 car in one county must load his vehicle down with both the crankcase and exhaust devices, whereas owners of newer cars in the next county get away scot free.

What we have now is a highly involved, inequitable law, whose enforcement may turn out to be more of a formality than actual compliance.

What we need is a simple law that applies statewide, or nationwide, and puts the responsibility of car smog control on the manufacturer, not on the millions of individual owners of used cars.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Taxpayers Should Be Happy To Help Sacramento Tourism

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — When California taxpayers wonder about the increasing prices of government operation and government largesse to certain areas of the state, they might stop to consider just how fortunate they are to be able to afford the little luxuries of life, at a half million or so on up, which go to bolster the egos of the various communities favored with appropriations of hard-earned dollars disbursed by the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

TAKE THE CITY of Sacramento, for instance, which contemplates the restoration of "Old Sacramento" along the Sacramento riverfront. The governor has just signed a bill appropriating $500,000 for relocation, restoration and reconstruction of historical buildings along the right-of-way of the new north-south freeway.

"This demonstrates our determination to protect the rich and colorful heritage of California's past while meeting the needs of modern California," the governor expounded in justifying this use of tax funds for the creation of another tourist-trap to entice the unwary to the Capitol City.

The old and ancient structures the state is appropriating a half million dollars to reconstruct stood forgotten in Sacramento's "lower end" for many years. Decrepit and falling down, they represented an era long gone and were slated to go, along with many another bawdy house, to make way for the redevelopment of the area —with government money, of course — into a modern community.

IT IS SOMEWHAT doubtful whether the recreators of "Old Sacramento" will ever be able to achieve authentic replicas of the sinful city that was, although, if they could, it would bring the tourists to Sacramento in hordes.

For "Old Sacramento" was a rip-roaring, hard-drinking, two-fisted community of rough and tough miners who took their pleasures seriously.

So an authentic return to the old days would necessitate some changes in the law, which hardly could be accomplished. These would include lifting the bans on gambling and the "oldest profession," without which the new "Old Sacramento" wouldn't be even a good ghost of its former self.

In any event, cover-up is the procedure nowadays for the sins of our ancestors. Even the slave pens and quarters at George Washington's Mt. Vernon estate on the Potomac have been labeled something other than what they really were, presumably for the cause of morality. The do-gooders apparently have forgotten the legend of the cherry tree.

To what use the relocated, restored or reconstructed buildings of "Old Sacramento" will be put remains to be seen. No doubt they will house curio shops which will sell miniature gold pans and postcards, along with other junk the tourist buys when he's touring.

ONE THING can be depended on, that the rents or admission fees will never be returned to the coffers of the state and the taxpayers reimbursed for helping build a replica of the past.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Political Booth Ban Branded A Dishonor

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Marin Art and Garden Fair traditionally held over the Fourth of July—celebration of Independence Day for the United States of America —was remiss in its failure to allocate booth space to the two duly recognized major political parties in this country.

'Twas indeed a dishonor to ignore our proud past in deference to four allegedly non-partisan organizations of questionable repute! — Radio station KPFA-FM, Synanon, Henry George School of Social Science, League of Women Voters.

Column Was Unfair To Native Sons

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Enclosed is an article appearing in your July 14 issue. It is very obvious that the very honorable gentleman who wrote it knows nothing about the aims and objectives of the Native Sons of the Golden West and what they have done for many years for our state. Had he taken the trouble to find out, I am sure he would not have written such an ill-conceived and, to make matters worse, such a poorly written article.

If this Johnnie-come-lately wishes to ridicule us because we love our native state, because we are proud of our heritage and our pioneer fathers and mothers, then I suppose there is nothing we can do about it as long as you agree with him.

For this gentleman's information, we natives have banded together for no other reason than to preserve our state's history. To keep alive the memory of our fathers and mothers, their trials and tribulations, and their great accomplishments. We owe that to them. This gentleman owes it to them. All we and they wanted to do was to make and keep our wonderful state a beautiful and happy place in which to live for our children and families, and for his, too.

I will NOT cancel my subscription to your paper.

Thanking you for hearing me out, I am,

Humane Society Deserves Praise

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It seems all that is published lately about the Marin County Humane Society is complaints about service and practices. We would like to step forward here with a great deal of praise and a pat on the back, too.

The humane society was founded and continues to operate as a charity supported organization with a goal of protecting animal life. Far too many people do not realize all the service put out by this dedicated group to reach this goal.

The humane society picks up straying animals mostly for their own good, secondly to protect the people and property of Marin, certainly never to make the trip pay.

Ask any veterinarian what is the main reason for pet injury and deaths. He will tell you, as the humane society will, animals not under control are animals prone to be hurt, injured, poisoned.

For years and years the society performed this service of impounding dogs and cats, required by state law, for the towns of Marin without any rent or service charge. Even so, they were and still are being blamed for upholding laws that the public adopted and wished to have enforced.

We are proud of the wonderful job the humane society is doing and wish more people would look at both sides of the coin before condemning a worthwhile and essential institution.

Dog Owners Should Control The Mess

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to ask a favor of you, please. Could you write an editorial or suggestion in the I-J to the people whose dogs run wild on the streets and make terrible big messes —you know what I mean—on the sidewalks.

Honestly each day when I walk down the street from the Post Office to the bank and back to work, I GAG all the way. It is most sickening.

I am almost to the point that I want to do physical harm to every dog I see on the streets, and I used to really like dogs.

There must be something that can be done about it. Maybe you would come over and take the walk with me and see how bad it really is—then write about it.

Courthouse Square Offers Solutions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Editorial of July 5 is your second very timely attempt to stimulate positive thinking on the future of the courthouse square. In it you stress two vital requirements for the central business district: the preservation of open space and the need for more parking.

If either or both of these are lost in some unplanned, hit-or-miss, speculative development of the square, then downtown San Rafael will have gone a long way down the road to permanent mediocrity.

Considering the downtown area as a whole, San Rafael needs several open spaces to break up its "one-street town" layout and to give identity to each of its several recognizable sectors. It needs attractive pedestrian and visual accesses cut through to connect the parallel east-west streets.

The courthouse square is the vital place to begin, and has a great potential. It should be acquired as open space, and then it and the surrounding area should be planned to provide the amenities a successful business district demands. Next, for example, a way might be found to connect the new City Hall and library block visually to Fourth Street with landscaped open space.

There is little doubt that preserving and acquiring open spaces will be expensive, and that thorough long range planning will be essential to locate and use them to advantage.

Most will agree that an attractive environment is worthwhile for its own sake as well as for the financial rewards it can bring. As you have said, to forego it could be too expensive. The courthouse square is available.

WHEN THE venerable Casey Stengel was just an impetuous and devil-may-care outfielder, he made a few comments on a beefy umpire's heredity that earned him a trip to the showers. When the ump turned away scornfully, Casey swiped the whiskbroom from his back pocket, then thoughtfully kicked a lot of dirt across home plate and began the long walk to the clubhouse. The umpire of course leaned down to clean off home plate, reaching for his whiskbroom on the way down. How the crowd howled when he couldn't find it. And how Stengel howled when he was plastered with a hundred-dollar fine!

The Time Has Arrived To End Viet Nam Struggle Make-Believe

WASHINGTON — There is nothing more imperative than candor when it comes to laying out to the nation what we are up against in the Viet Nam war and what may lie ahead.

President Lyndon B. Johnson was admirably candid the other day at his press conference when he said that things would get worse before they could get better and foresaw heavier fighting and heavier casualties.

That's a good beginning.

BUT MORE CANDOR is needed. It is needed because candor will nourish and strengthen public support for what has to be gone through. It is also needed to dispel a long legacy of misleading information from the government about Viet Nam.

I am not suggesting that officials set out to deceive the American people. They themselves were deceived. But the effect was just as bad.

Three years ago officials here and in Saigon misled the country into believing the war was being won. It wasn't.

Two years ago the Pentagon misled the country into believing that the U.S. could soon be taking forces out of Viet Nam. It couldn't and didn't.

The government itself was misled into believing that South Viet Nam could be adequately defended by sending over a few thousand "military advisors." U.S. forces have been getting into combat with the Viet Cong and there will be more such combat, not less.

And for the past three months the administration has been hopeful that the air raids to the north would force Hanoi to the conference table. We are going to have to combat the aggression on the ground as well as in the air and the Joint Chiefs of Staff are rightly letting it be known that we will have to more than double our present force level of 75,000 men.

WOULDN'T THERE be merit if the president and Congress joined in declaring a state of national emergency? This would update the congressional resolution of last August supporting the president's actions in Southeast Asia by recognizing that we are not just "advising" a war in Viet Nam but are fighting it. It would underline the president's emergency powers. It would do more than most anything else to alert the nation to what we face.

Isn't it about time that the Defense Department quit pretending it doesn't need a large increase—at least $3 billion—in its budget to fight the war in Viet Nam? Everybody knows that the 1966 budget was under-calculated in order to make it easier for the administration to gets its big social welfare appropriations through Congress on the pretense that the over-all budget could be kept under $100 billion.

We can't fight a war in Viet Nam and practice a policy of everything-as-usual at home.

P. S. — I want to share a secret. Even if you have to steal 75 cents from your child's piggy-bank, don't miss editor John Fischer's "Easy Chair" article in the August Harpers. It's a must on Viet Nam.

Klan Leaders Found On Federal Payrolls

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Investigators of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are uncovering Ku Klux Klan members on federal, state and local government payrolls.

One KKK official in a Southern state is employed by the Post Office Department.

Other Klansmen include a Florida police chief, a mayor of a Southern city, a self-ordained California minister, a superintendent of a large public school and his wife, and a relative of a member of Congress.

THESE AND OTHER undisclosed details of the House committee's six-month investigation of the Klan in eight states will be highlighted when Rep. Edwin Willis, D-La., chairman, holds public hearings in August.

The headline-making sessions, originally scheduled to open this month, will follow a series of closed-door hearings this week, at which Klan authorities will be quizzed about everything from personal incomes to their secret roles in the KKK organizations.

As reported in this column June 25, the tax returns of Klan officials in four Southern states are under close scrutiny by committee investigators and the Internal Revenue Service.

Their joint findings indicate that a number of the Klansmen are doing a thriving business selling KKK attire and paraphernalia. In several instances, they allotted themselves lush "expense" accounts equal to or surpassing their private incomes.

ONE KLAN OFFICIAL earning approximately $350 a month was discovered soliciting membership for the organization in a brand new Cadillac. Investigation showed the car was obtained with Klan funds.

The committee's documentation of Klan officials on the government's payroll confronts the Johnson administration with an explosive issue—due to the policy of permitting militant civil rights leaders to continue their activities and hold down government jobs at the same time.

If these Klansmen are to be fired—as the committee probably will recommend — the question arises, what should be done about the civil rights officials?

One case involves Julius Hobson, economist for the Social Security administrator. Hobson is president of the militant Negro group known as ACT. While employed by the government, he has advocated "paralyzing the machinery of the district government" during demonstrations here.

Despite protests to the Justice Department about his activities, there has been no effort by either Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach or Hobson's immediate superiors to crack down on the controversial civil rights leader.

SEN. ROBERT KENNEDY, D-N.Y., is expressing views on limiting the use of nuclear weapons far more controversial than his proposals to stop their spread to other nations.

He is vigorously opposed to their use against the Soviet, even in the face of a Kremlin attack, until the Russians strike the first blow.

The former attorney general, who advised the late President John F. Kennedy against bombing Soviet missile bases in Cuba during the 1962 crisis, revealed his "don't strike until hit" position in questioning Gen. Thomas White, retired Air Force chief of staff.

Pets, Like Youngsters, Make Perpetual Crisis Machines

We live at Fiddler's Green, a rural haven where the animals far outnumber the people. There are plenty of crises.

For example, Sister, the ranking female in our hierarchy of cats and kittens, recently picked an evening when we were frantically getting ready to go to a dog show—to bring home a baby bird.

Sister's an undistinguished-looking dark calico cat, who's apparently frustrated by not being able to have any more kittens. Regardless of her lacks, she must have a "soft" mouth that would be the envy of any bird dog. She didn't even ruffle a feather on the tiny, squawking-mad fledgling she set down in the front yard.

Naturally, all the other cats squatted around in a circle to see what she had. Not all of them seemed to be so kindly-minded, so we scooped up the fledgling and took it inside. Sister thought this was a pretty poor trick, depriving her of her baby. The other cats said they were hungry.

SO WAS THE BIRD, so we offered it a dab of strained beef, meant for human infants but a staple for puppies at Fiddler's Green. Baby birds think baby beef's great, too. It wanted more, every two hours.

Worry, worry. What to do with the baby bird—which we decided was probably a meadow lark. We couldn't take it to the dog show, for sure.

So, the next morning, we took it to the Louise A. Boyd Natural History Museum in San Rafael. If the good people there were upset by the prospect of a gift bird that had to be fed every two hours, they didn't let on. In fact, they seemed downright glad to get the little critter.

The museum feeds baby birds on mashed eggs and pablum, we learned, and the little ones rapidly become tame.

When they're old enough, the fledgling foundlings often go to school. When the museum's traveling lecturers visit the classrooms, young pupils are particularly fascinated by a chance to learn about birds on a gentle, see-and-touch basis.

SO, OUR LITTLE meadow lark or whatever it is may become better educated than we are. Meanwhile, it has still another foster home. Several Marin County youngsters have become real experts in care and feeding of tiny animals and birds, helping out the museum with this round-the-clock chore. That should be a great experience for any child.

We grew up in a home that was nursery for assorted puppies, kittens, abandoned baby rabbits, and once even a piglet who grew to boarhood thinking he was a pet. After he matured, he used to escape from his pen at every opportunity and crash right through the house's screen doors like a railroad engine, looking for people to play with him.

One pet we never had much luck with was a coyote—but the Boyd Museum has a new one, and she's a charmer.

"CHULA" LOOKS like an awkward, German shepherd sort of puppy, except for the huge ears and pointy muzzle. She's as playful and mischievous as any puppy, and scoots away with anything that isn't nailed down or too high to reach in the museum office and workshop.

For years, folks who know the Greers and our habit of raising all sorts of animals have wondered when we were going to start raising eagles. Maybe being an overnight host to a meadow lark is the first step down that long road.

But, anyway, we have a new line of pets. An academic friend gave us seven Planaria, quiet little flatworms that live happily in a dish of water, eat raw liver once a week, and have the most comical crossed eyes you ever saw. We now have 37 Planaria, or think we do, if they'd hold still long enough to count....

Which Republican Is The Log And Which Merely A Splinter?

LISTENING TO the liberal Republican salvos for the candidacy of John Lindsay in New York's mayoralty race, I am reminded of Shakespeare's immortal lines: "Now is the splinter of our discontent/Made glorious summer by this son of York."

(Yes, yes, I know. The Bard wrote "winter" instead of "splinter" and "sun" instead of "son." But he was not above a pun—and I see no harm in updating him. If it's all right to revise the King James version of the Bible by substituting dullness—in the name of clarity — for English at its loftiest, why not Shakespeare?)

But, bad pun or not, there is no argument about the splintering of the GOP. Here's Bill Buckley entering the race despite Lindsay's unimpeachable record of voting solidly against his party on major issues. The odds, of course, remain with Lindsay: In return for the support of the Liberal Party, he has searched his conscience and found that he was wrong when he argued that 14-B of Taft-Hartley was a matter for indvidual states to rule on. Here he has followed the heroic footsteps of LBJ, who voted for 14-B but has now been converted against it by such eminent sky-pilots as Reuther and Meany.

But Buckley's intransigence is only one of the many signs that the rift in the GOP, caused by the civil war of 1964, has not healed and that the wounds are still festering. The national committee chairman, Ray Bliss, finds it difficult to get funds, and there are fulminations about such "splinter groups" as the Free Society Assn. and the American Conservative Union, which are said to be siphoning off needed cash.

SPLINTERED the party undoubtedly is, but I can't help wondering which segment is the log and which the splinter, which group the loyalists and which the deserters.

What must not be overlooked is the highly significant fact that Barry received more individual contributions than had ever gone to a campaigner before. And that many of the donors had never given to a party previously.

There were rich men, of course, who gave generously, but the bulk of the million or so were those in the average income brackets. This I know because many of them send me checks from $1 to $10, asking me to forward them "where they would do the most good. Only wish it could be more."

To them all—Barry was the symbol—rightly or wrongly—of the code they had absorbed with their mother's milk and could not bear to see destroyed. They could not understand that the simple virtues of the pioneers should suddenly become objects of derision. They wanted Americans to stand on their own feet and carve their own niches, and they saw nothing ignoble in saluting Old Glory and what it meant to them. And when they turned for guidance, it was to the Lord, not the bureaucracy of a welfare state.

CORNY? PERHAPS—but I think even the most sophisticated would have found themselves moved by the sincerity of the letters that came to me from the grass-roots. If they were the kooks and extremists the liberals called them, I was proud to be with them.

A letter from Mrs. R. D. P. of Plainview, Tex., is indicative of the way they feel now. She had sent a check in July, 1964, to the GOP Finance Committee for the campaign.

It was mislaid, and the new committee didn't locate it till this April (which shows its files are no better than mine). They then asked her if they could still deposit it or should they return it.

Her reply: "Since my contribution was entirely in support of the principles advocated by Barry Goldwater, I shall appreciate the return of my check. I can't see what the Republican Party has to offer conservatives at present. If you wish to retain the Goldwater voters, you must stop trying to out - promise the Democrats."

And that, I fear, is what Chairman Bliss faces and will continue to face. Hot as my own particular kitchen gets at times, I wouldn't want to trade with him.

Incidentally, apropos of some comments in a recent column, E. P. F. of Fairfax forwards me a note from Mr. Bliss on the subject: "I have always had great admiration for Mr. Ryskind, but I must admit his column contains statements which are incorrect." Well, what, for instance?

MAY I RETURN the compliment and say I have always had great admiration for Mr. Bliss and, if he points out any errors in fact I have cited, I'll be happy to print his rebuttal.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Use Familiar Count To Value Your Hand In Bridge Game

Most experienced bridge players estimate the value of a hand by counting 4 points for each ace, 3 for each king, 2 for each queen, and 1 for each jack.

South dealer
North-South vulnerable

NORTH
♠ A 10
♡ 10 4 2
◇ A 8 6 5 3
♣ 6 5 2

WEST
♠ 9 8 6 4 2
♡ Q 7 3
◇ Q 10 9
♣ J 8

EAST
♠ 7 5 3
♡ K 9 8 6
◇ K 7
♣ Q 10 9 7

SOUTH
♠ K Q J
♡ A J 5
◇ J 4 2
♣ A K 4 3

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♣ | Pass | 1 ◇ | Pass |
| 2 NT | Pass | 3 NT | All Pass |

Opening lead — ♠ 4

South's jump to two notrump shows 19 to 20 points. If he held 16 to 18 points he would open with one notrump; if he had 22 to 24 points, he would open with two notrump.

IN BETWEEN

With the in-between values he opens with one of a suit and makes a jump bid in notrump at his second turn.

North adds his own 8 points shown by his partner (19 or 20) and sees that the total is more than the 26 points usually needed for game.

North therefore has no hesitation in raising to game in notrump.

EASY PLAY

The play is as easy as the bidding to an experienced player. South needs three diamond tricks and must postpone taking dummy's ace of diamonds as long as possible.

South would go down if he took the ace of diamonds early and gave up a diamond.

The opponents would lead a spade to remove dummy's ace, and South might set up the diamonds but would never get back to dummy to cash them.

LOW CARD

Declarer deliberately starts the diamonds by playing a low card from each hand. Back comes a spade to dummy's ace, and declarer returns a low diamond from dummy.

South wins the third spade trick and leads his last diamond to dummy's ace. By this time the last two diamonds are good, and dummy is in the lead to cash them.

With three diamonds South has no trouble in taking nine tricks for the game contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with a 2 NT (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

You have:

♠ 9 8 6 4 2
♡ Q 7 3
♦ Q 10 9
♣ J 8

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three spades.

Since you have 5 points you know that the combined count is 27 to 29 points, which should be enough for game. There is no harm in showing the 5-card major suit as an alternative to notrump.

DONNER SUMMIT FREEWAY

Motorists now cross California's famed Donner Summit in the Sierra Nevada on a four-lane freeway (plus extra uphill climbing lane), instead of the old two-lane road where traffic was often slowed to a crawl. The new Interstate 80 freeway swings to the north of the old road and the railroad tracks near the community of Soda Springs and Lake Van Norden (foreground), and ascends for three-and-one-half miles to the 7,239-foot summit before dropping down on a seven-mile "split-level" pair of roadways to Donner Lake (barely visible in background). The 10-and-one-half mile project was recently completed under three contracts totalling about $15 million.

New York May Adopt Britain's Controversial Dope Supply Plan

By EDWARD J. MOWERY
Advance News Service

NEW YORK — A disturbing note has entered the perennial battle against drug addiction in the United States.

Both houses of this state's legislature have passed a bill authorizing a medically controlled pilot program which would maintain an addict in his required dosage.

And in New York City — the home of 52 per cent of the nation's addicts—another $1.3 million) anti-addiction experiment will use an oblique method to guarantee an addict his dosage.

Under this plan, awaiting official approval, the addict would level off on a drug called Methadone, which assertedly relieves heroin's symptoms. But Methadone, known to experts for decades, builds up an addict's craving — for more Methadone. The trick will be to reduce or control this craving.

Both proposals, experts in the field declare, perpetuate dope addiction and damn the addict to slavery. More importantly, both approaches mimic the British "free dosage" system now under savage attack on the continent as a failure.

The major target in anti-addiction experiments, of course, is heroin (diacletylmorphine), a synthesized derivative of morphine, which in turn, is derived from opium. Heroin is a "killer" drug, long outlawed in this country.

The true picture of Britain's anti-addiction fight under its socialized medicine format, has never emerged. But it is breaking through. Only a portion of Britain's addicts appear on official records—called an "iceberg" tally by one American authority.

Calling the English situation "now more grave," the British medical journal "Lancet" warnd Parliament:

"It is clear that the number of addicts . . . is increasing rapidly, and addiction's pattern also seems to be undergoing a disquieting change. Known addicts in 1957 totaled 359. The number of people who had had periods of addiction between 1957 and 1963 cannot have been appreciably less than 1,000.

Striking at the "free dosage" abuses, the Journal said a "large number" of addicts request narcotic prescriptions for "four times" their need.

"The doctor," the Lancet declared, "may divide this amount by two in the belief he is calling the bluff, but this still leaves the addict enough to support at least one 'friend,' whom he maintains in his habit.

"These indications point to a potential reservoir of addictive illness in Britain . . . not much less than 2,000. The problem is thus more serious than it was in 1961, and will grow still further if nothing is done."

The most recent shocker to Britishers was the death of Josue MacMillan,20, grandson of the former prime minister, assertedly from an overdose. Judge Thomas Gardiner, concluding the death was "accidental," commented:

"He was able to obtain drugs without any restrictions or difficulty. The fact that he was taking heroin and cocaine intravenously proves that there exists a very grave state of fact."

Encephalitis Upswing Held Mostly Due To Mosquitos

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — A new government survey reveals encephalitis — or brain fever — hit the highest peak in a decade last year.

Nationally, there were 3,587 cases with 337 deaths. Reports the U.S. Communicable Disease Center, Atlanta.

Epidemics of the mosquito-borne disease in Houston, Tex., and counties in New Jersey and Pennsylvania contributed to the record total of 582 insect-caused cases.

The remaining cases were attributed to brain-inflammation complications stemming from common virus ills, or unknown causes.

In a simultaneous report, other investigators said the Houston epidemic was centralized in the poorer central part of the city where tattered or non-existent screens invited night-biting mosquitoes.

They said in the Journal of the American Medical Association there were 700 reported cases, but about 50 per cent may prove in lab tests to be other disorders. It was "surprising," they said, that hot, humid, mosquito-plagued Houston had been spared an epidemic until 1964.

Full-blown encephalitis is marked by headache, chills, muscle pain and intestinal or respiratory symptoms. Tremors can occur and the face sometimes is flushed or swollen.

Humans are the unfortunate middlemen in the disease chain. Mosquitoes pick up the virus (possibly from migratory birds, but nobody is sure) and transmit it to man, an accidental host. There are a variety of kinds carried by some 50 arthropods, or blood-sucking bugs.

Last year, a record number of 932 cases, of another kind of encephalitis followed mumps. There were 18 deaths.

Another 300 cases with 46 deaths arose from regular measles, lending additional support to the importance of immunizing children with a readily-available vaccine. There is no vaccine for mumps, or for German (three-day) measles, which accounted for 59 cases of post-infectious encephalitis, according to the center.

The agency accepted 252 of the Texas cases as verified mosquito-borne encephalitis, which killed 28 persons, all but one over 50 years old. The next biggest epidemic struck 94 persons, with nine deaths, in Camden and Burlington counties of New Jersey. This was St. Louis type encephalitis and all the victims were over 55.

There were 21 cases in the bordering area of Pennsylvania, with just one death. Illinois had a large outbreak of 46 cases, and three deaths, followed by Colorado with 37 cases and three deaths, and Indiana with 31 cases, but no deaths.

A medical authority says there is no way to predict this year if and when the same or other parts of the nation are in for additional mosquito-borne outbreaks, which peaked in late summer and fall last year.

Birds Smell But Savants Argue Why

NEW YORK (UPI)—There no longer can be any doubt that birds are able to smell and that they do. What birds make of what they smell is another question which so far has no answer.

Don Tucker, a biologist, put an end to an ages-old argument which in its simplest form holds that because birds have no noses to speak of, they can't smell.

In that form the argument is not scientific. Science knows birds have olfactory smelling nerves. But scientists have been unable to prove birds respond to them and some argue the nerves don't work.

Tucker went directly to those nerves, in 14 species, in spongy bone between the eyes, through which birds breathe. He removed the bone, exposing the nerves and making a hollow chamber, like a nose.

With implanted electrodes he hooked the nerves to an instrument which records electrical impulses. Then he flooded the chamber with chemical odors mixed with the very breath of life.

The nerves gave off with trains of electrical impulses which peaked in tune with the bird's breathing and formed a pattern which did not differ much among chicken, crow, blue jay, warbler, gull, pigeon, goose, vulture and six other kinds of birds.

Nor did the pattern differ markedly from that recorded from the olfactory nerves of the rat which is a keen smeller.

The rat's pattern is much like that of other mammals and Tucker reported that patterns he had recorded from amphibians such as the tortoise and snakes were more of the same.

This, he said, was proof that the olfactory nerves of birds were fully functional, meaning they work. He reminded scientists and non-scientists who believe birds don't smell "how difficult it is to imagine that such functionality might persist without biological significance."

In other words, what birds smell must mean something to birds, just as what people smell means things to people—a broiling steak, a woman's perfume, a barnyard and so forth.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Here Is Some Good News For The Drinker Along With Bad

VAN DELLEN

There is good and bad news for drinking men. The first centers about fructose (levulose), the sweetest of the sugars. Chemists from University of Copenhagen found that it increases the rate at which the body metabolizes and eliminates alcohol. The combination may be of practical value.

The rationale of the fructose effect is not known except that the sugar doubles the absorption of alcohol by the intestines and increases the output of acetates from the liver. The latter chemical is the end result of the metabolism of alcohol by the liver and plays a role in the development of a hangover.

THE EFFECT does not occur when the sweetener or the alcohol is taken alone; when combined, the blood flow to the gastrointestinal organs is increased 30 per cent and the oxygen consumption 60 per cent. Six of the 16 patients studied by the Danish group developed severe abdominal pain within 15 minutes after receiving the combination. This lessens its practical value.

Tomato juice is high in fructose and may explain why those who drink Bloody Marys outlast the martini drinker. It may be worthwhile to switch from cherries and olives to grapes because these edibles also are rich in this sugar.

THE BAD NEWS centers about the mounting evidence that excessive alcohol consumption is toxic to the heart muscle. A group of internists from Wayne State University conducted heart and liver tests on 28 chronic alcoholics ranging in age from 24 to 65. Some had cirrhosis, others heart muscle abnormalities, and still others had both. The Detroit physicians then conducted enzyme tests on the ticker and found additional defects, even among those with no evidence of heart trouble as determined by standard methods.

They concluded that these alterations could lead to irreversible damage to the heart muscle after repeated exposure to alcohol.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

PERSONALITY DEFECT

B. K. writes: Would a man who consumed approximately $10 worth of whisky weekly (evenings only while watching television) be considered an alcoholic? He is easily agitated during the day. Would this also affect his personality?

REPLY

Ten dollars a week for whisky is not the important consideration in making this diagnosis. It is what drinking is doing to him, his family, and job. It might affect his personality, but there is a better chance that his personality is responsible for his imbibing.

LIVER SPOTS

V. B. writes: what causes brown spots on the arms? Can they be prevented?

REPLY

These brownish lesions (keratosis or liver spots) are most common in older people and form chiefly on exposed parts. There is no preventive except to avoid the sun or use sunscreening ointments.

Worst Drought Perils Australia's Economy

By ARTHUR SCHOLES
Worldwide Press Service

SYDNEY—The worst drought in 63 years in eastern Australia is forcing a major reappraisal of this country's rural financing policies. For the resulting decline in wheat and wool yields spells economic trouble in the year ahead.

Australia's Director of meteorology, Mr. J. W. Gibbs, has reported that not since the great drought of 1901-02 have conditions been so dry in many parts of New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia and the Northern Territory.

In the northern parts of South Australia there has been virtually no rain for from eight to 10 years.

In New South Wales special caravans have been mobilized to take starving livestock hundreds of miles south to Victoria where the weather has been good. It is now winter here in Australia, and new-born lambs have died in the first snowstorms on the highlands because there is nothing for them to eat. Dairy farmers in western and northwestern N.S.W. have left their land to take factory jobs in the cities.

The New South Wales wheat crop is expected to be down by 50 per cent — and N.S.W. is the greatest wheat producing state in Australia. In some areas of N.S.W. the period from November 1964 to May 1965 brought less rain than in any comparable period since rainfall observations were first set up in the 1870s.

In Queensland heavy rain is urgently needed to allow normal wheat planting to take place on the Darling Downs. The Queensland Department of Agriculture has estimated that the production of grain, sorghum, maize and peanuts will be 50 per cent below average.

One million bushels of wheat has already been released by the Australian Wheat Board for stock feeding and, if the drought continues, this figure will increase to at least five million bushels by the end of November.

Wool brokers have reported that the wool-producing countries of South Africa and Argentina are also suffering drought which coupled with a reduced sheep population in the United States and the Soviet Union, means that less wool may be on the world market next season.

Wool clipping is reported down by as much as 50 per cent in drought areas in N.S.W. and Queensland which together produce more than 58 per cent of Australia's sheep. The wool industry is worth an average $900 million a year to this country, and brings in 40 per cent of her export income.

The deputy prime minister, John McEwen, has called for special consideration of credit policies which would enable farmers to have better water and fodder reserves to cope with future droughts.

But because of the federal government's tight fist on the purse strings, drought relief policies have met with considerable criticism.

The Reserve Bank has declared that relief measures should be met by the commercial banks from within their currently restricted lending policies, but heavy livestock losses raise doubts of their ability to do so. The big test for monetary policy will come when restocking starts, probably later in the year.

The financial resources of the "pastoral houses" are already fully stretched. There are 23 such credit organizations in Australia and they currently have $300 million out in advances.

Federal government ministers are already under pressure from drought-affected state governments for a special subsidy for drought assistance. Livestock losses have made it increasingly clear that the long-term impact on wool production will be one of the most critical consequences of the drought.

The effect of a continuing drought on the nation's finances is now being considered by Federal Treasurer Harold E. Holt, who will deliver the 1965-66 budget in the House of Representatives in Canberra on Aug. 17.

Holt has already warned that higher taxation is necessary to pay for increasing defense commitments in Viet Nam, Malaysia and New Guinea.

In the 1964-65 financial year ended June 30, Australia's overseas balances fell by $385 million, the greatest decline since the 1952-53 recession period.

Rock 'n' Roll Special Answers To Critics

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There was quite a furor June 28 when CBS - TV, in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity, put on a rock 'n' roll special that mixed in advice for school dropouts and youngsters looking for jobs.

The 90-minute program, "It's What's Happening, Baby!", was the butt of much criticism from some viewers who questioned the taste and means employed. Among these were a number of legislators who were outraged and said so in no uncertain terms.

Now a telegram signed by the government's Sargent Shriver has been received by the producer - director of the special, Barry Shear, who says it is his understanding that the same missive was sent to a number of other persons connected with the show. It reads:

"We are releasing this week the response to your show, 'It's What Happening, Baby!' Ten thousand letters have been received. Three per cent are critical. The remaining 97 per cent made it clear that we reached the audience we sought and they understood what we were saying.

"Those most knowledgeable about teenagers and young adults — those who work with young adults on a daily basis — believe that you helped us do something not done before — identify our national program with the personal needs, personal hopes, personal problems of millions of youngsters.

"Other government and private agencies are already studying the show to see if they can build upon our experience of communicating effectively with young Americans.

"No doubt about it — the show was a success. Your contribution made that success possible. Please accept our thanks for a job well done. Sargent Shriver."

According to the New York press, by the way, Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay, who is running for mayor of that city, recently gave "Murray the K," the disk jockey who was host of the special, a silver trophy for "his work with high school dropouts."

The Channel Swim: NBC-TV's three - and - a - half hour prime - time special about American foreign policy Sept. 7 is scheduled to include interviews with Presidents Eduardo Frei of Chile, Fernando Belaunde of Peru and Julius K. A three - part drama - discussion series concerning the changing roles of women in the Catholic Church and in society begins on CBS-TV's "Look Up and Live" Aug. 15.

School Memorial To Adlai Sought

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Two educational memorials to Adlai Stevenson — one in California and the other at the United Nations — were proposed yesterday by State Controller Alan Cranston.

Cranston suggested that one of the University of California's new schools of international relations, political science or law be named for Stevenson. The state controller also proposed a program of "Stevenson Grants" to finance post-graduate study internships at the United Nations.

Cranston said he has written to Gov. Brown about naming a university school for Stevenson and to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey suggesting the U. N. grants.

Mount Whitney Renaming Rapped

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A spokesman for a conservationist group says a proposal to rename California's Mount Whitney in honor of the late Winston Churchill is "sentimental to the point of damned foolishness."

The Sierra Club spokesman said yesterday that the idea proposed by Rep. Charles Teague, R-Calif., "would be a backward step for humanity."

The mountain, 14,495 feet, is the highest outside Alaska in the United States. It is named for geologist Josiah D. Whitney who first surveyed it in 1864.

Kennedy 'Aghast' Over Bay Of Pigs

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore C. Sorensen, a top aide to the late President John F. Kennedy, says that after the 1961 Bay of Pigs fiasco he heard Kennedy ask himself: "How could I have been so stupid, to let them go ahead?"

Sorensen gives his account of Kennedy's role in the abortive Cuban invasion in the current Look magazine. The article is the first of a series of excerpts from a forthcoming book.

Sorensen says the whole Bay of Pigs disaster "seemed to move mysteriously and inexorably toward execution without the President's being able either to obtain a firm grip on it or reverse it."

Sorensen's account agrees in substance with the version of another Kennedy aide, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., published by Life magazine this week. While Schlesinger was in on the invasion plan and advised Kennedy against it, Sorensen learned of it afterward in long talks with Kennedy.

Both the Kennedy aides differ with Richard M. Bissell Jr., a former Central Intelligence Agency official, who said in an interview that the invasion might have succeeded if Kennedy hadn't canceled a second air strike at Fidel Castro's airfields.

The first strike was made early Saturday, April 15, two days before the landing. The second strike was scheduled for dawn Monday after the landing party was ashore.

Sorensen said the cancellation of the air strike was unimportant because the project was doomed long before that. He said Kennedy told him later he should have canceled the entire operation, not merely the air strike.

"For it was clear to him by then," Sorensen wrote, "that he had in fact approved a plan bearing little resemblance to what he thought he had approved."

Sorensen said there had been objections from such men as Schlesinger and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and there were even doubts among some of the CIA and military planners.

But those doubts were not pressed, Sorensen wrote, because "both the CIA and the Joint Chiefs were moved more by the necessity of acting swiftly against Castro than by the necessity for caution and success."

"He should have paid more attention to his own politically sound instincts and to the politically knowledgeable men who did voice objections directly," Sorensen wrote, "instead of following only the advice of Latin-American experts Adolf Berle Jr. and Thomas Mann."

After the disaster, Sorensen said, Kennedy was "aghast at the enormity of his error, angry at having been badly advised by some and let down by others."

Despite frequent briefing, the President was completely misled about the operation, Sorensen said. Kennedy thought it was to be a "quiet infiltration" with two possible outcomes — "national revolt or a flight to the hills," Sorensen wrote.

After the invasion force landed, Castro's planes sank supply ships, the invaders ran out of ammunition and were quickly rounded up by Castro's superior forces.

Sorensen, however, said that the first air raid against Castro's airfields was "remarkably ineffective."

Kennedy called off the second when it became clear that nobody was deceived by the CIA's coverup story that the first was the work of defecting Cuban air force pilots, Sorensen wrote.

Air Crash Kills 4

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — A four-engine Viscount freight plane crashed into a mothball factory last night, killing two women workers and the plane's two crewmen. The plane, which carried no passengers, was coming in to land at Liverpool and hit the top of the building.

Governor Signs Law On Jobless Insurance

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law AB518 which may be one of the most far-reaching unemployment insurance law changes in many years.

On the surface, the measure, by Assemblyman George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno, increases maximum weekly benefits for some 380,000 claimants of unemployment insurance from $55 to $65 a week. It increases costs to employers by about $13 million a year.

But, perhaps more important, the bill makes some reforms in the present operation of the law. Several of the changes will end alleged abuses under the program which were pointed up in a recent Reader's Digest article reporting on the "jackpot" of UI benefits in California.

One of the changes concerns persons who leave their employment without good cause or are fired for misconduct. Under the present law, such persons are disqualified from receiving benefits for five weeks but then are eligible to dray benefits up to 26 weeks.

Under the changes in AB518, such persons would not be eligible to receive benefits until they actually had returned to work and earned five times their weekly benefit. An estimated 38,000 persons will be disqualified for benefits under the Zenovich bill.

Governor Brown said he had hoped to see the UI program extended to farm labor and some other reforms made. He said he feared some of the reforms in the bill, such as that for persons who quit or are fired, "may be so severe that it will work a hardship on many workers."

The bill was considered by many to be the first change in philosophy of UI benefits in many years. Brown said he hoped legislators would have a chance to see how the new law functioned and be in a position to correct any inequities which might occur.

Woman, 53 Reported Missing

Mrs. Ana Rector, 53, a housemaid living in a rooming house at 14 Sentinel Court, San Rafael, has been missing from her home since July 13, San Rafael police were told Tuesday by Ralph W. Kluska, a tenant in the same building.

Mrs. Rector, an immigrant who reportedly has no relatives in the country and few friends outside of those in San Rafael who are now looking for her, had been under treatment for lung cancer at San Rafael General Hospital for a month.

She was last seen by Mrs. Barbara Evans, another tenant in the rooming house, who offered her a ride downtown a week ago yesterday. Mrs. Rector told Mrs. Evans that she was going out to dinner at a friend's and that she would walk.

Until Tuesday Mrs. Rector's friends had hoped that she was in Utah visiting a friend who originally brought her to this country, but they called the party and found she knew nothing of the missing woman's whereabouts.

Presidential Library Due In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—A library of presidential papers containing originals or copies of all the papers of American presidents will be established here by a group of public minded citizens, it was announced yesterday.

The library has been chartered as a non-profit institution by the state Board of Regents and a $350,000 mansion, formerly the home of financier Paul M. Warburg, has been purchased to house it. The founding group is headed by Edouard L. Cournand, a French-born cosmetics tycoon.

A spokesman said the library will provide a research center that will eliminate the necessity of travel to various presidential collections scattered across the nation. The library also will lend copies of documents to libraries and educational institutions for limited periods.

Solon Opposes Guard Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John C. Stennis is against the proposed merger of the Army's National Guard and reserve units.

The Mississippi Democrat is chairman of a Senate Defense subcommittee and acting manager of the pending $45-billion annual defense bill.

In a statement Tuesday, he predicted a call of military reservists for active duty because of the Viet Nam war, and said:

"In my view the existing international situation is so tense as to make a merger of the National Guard inadvisable at this time."
